

R.B. FOSDICK'S WIFE KILLS HERSELF AND TWO CHILDREN

Mate of Former League of Nations Officer and Sister-in-Law of New York Preacher Had Been Victim of Mental Disorder.

'PREMEDITATED ACT DUE TO INSANITY'

Husband Finds Bodies of Woman and Girl, 15, and Boy, 9, in Home at Montclair, N. J.—Statement Issued.

By the Associated Press. MONTCLAIR, N. J., April 4.—Mrs. Winifred Fosdick, wife of Raymond Blaine Fosdick, New York lawyer and former undersecretary-general of the League of Nations, shot and killed herself and her two children, a 15-year-old girl and a 9-year-old boy, in their home here today.

Mrs. Fosdick, who had been under treatment for a nervous disorder for several years, entered the home of her daughter, Susan, 15, and her son, George, 9, and fired a bullet into the girl's head. Then she went to the bedroom where her son, Blaine, 9, was sleeping and killed him with a shot in the head. Then she turned the weapon on herself.

Both children were home on vacation from school. The girl attended a private school in Philadelphia, and the boy was a pupil in a private school at Lake Placid, N. Y.

Shortly after the tragedy became known police placed a guard about the home and permitted no one to approach it. The bodies of the three victims were found by a neighbor, Mr. and Mrs. George Dickerson.

Dr. Victor Seidler, physician who had been attending Mrs. Fosdick, said at the time of the tragedy, "The wife of Mrs. Raymond B. Fosdick, who was sleeping in another portion of the house, and the bodies were not discovered until about 1:30 a. m., when he went into his son's room."

Fosdick is a trustee of the Rockefeller Foundation and of Princeton University. He was assistant secretary of the New York board of education from 1915 to 1919, and was a member of the Finance Committee of the Democratic National Committee in 1912. In 1916, he was a special representative of the Secretary of War on the Mexican border and again represented the War Department in France in 1918 and 1919. During the latter year he also was civilian aid to Gen. Pershing.

The shooting was said to have followed an argument between Doggett and his wife.

BULK OF EASTMAN ESTATE TO ROCHESTER UNIVERSITY

$200,000 Goes to Niece, Income on $100,000 to Each of Her Two Children—Legacy to Cornell Revoked.

By the Associated Press. ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 4.—The will of George Eastman, multimillionaire camera manufacturer and philanthropist, was probated by Monroe County Surrogate Joseph M. Feely today, after representatives of Cornell University withdrew objections based on a revoked legacy to Cornell of an estimated value. The will disposes of an estate valued at $200,000,000. The legacy to Cornell, another to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a third to the Young Women's Christian Association of Rochester, were revoked in a codicil Eastman signed a few hours before he killed himself at his mansion here March 14. The coroner's verdict was suicide while temporarily deranged.

Representatives of Cornell, Mynderse Van Cleef, trustee, and attorney, Charles Bostwick, comptroller, and Lee N. Simmons, assistant to the comptroller, announced the withdrawal of objections after questioning three witnesses to the codicil.

The bulk of the estate is left to the University of Rochester, to which Eastman gave $25,000,000 during a lifetime of philanthropy. The Security Trust Co. of Rochester was named executor of the will. The original will was executed July 17, 1925.

Eastman's nearest living relative, a niece, Mrs. George Dryden of Chicago, and her children, Ellen Marie Dryden and George Eastman Dryden, and Eastman's secretary, Mrs. Alice K. Hutchison, who was with him almost from the beginning of his business career, are the principal individual beneficiaries. Mrs. Dryden receives $200,000 and her two children receive the net income from funds of $100,000 each.

The Rochester Dental Dispensary, to which Eastman contributed large sums in his lifetime, receives $1,000,000. The Eastman home on East avenue, with all the philanthropist's hunting trophies and scientific exhibits goes to the University of Rochester as a residence for the president, now Dr. Rush Rhees, who is abroad.

There is a fund of $2,000,000 for the upkeep of the president's residence with the provision that the trustees of the university may dispose of the property after 10 years if they deem it advisable.

The Eastman hunting property, known as "Oak Lodge," in North Carolina, goes to Mrs. Dryden.

Exclusive of the Eastman home, the bequests to the university are in excess of $12,000,000, about $2,500,000 of which is for the Eastman School of Music, which the philanthropist founded.

Aside from the money for the upkeep of the home and the school of music, the bequests to the university are without restriction as to use either of principal or income.

Eastman in his life gave away about $100,000,000.

HOUSE VOTES BILL TO FREE FILIPINOS AFTER 8 YEARS

Islands Will Submit Own Constitution to U. S. and Will Get Independence After Trial.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, April 4.—The House, by more than a two-thirds vote, agreed today to grant independence to the Philippines at the end of eight years. It passed and sent to the Senate the Hare bill providing freedom for the islands at the end of such a preliminary period during which the framework of the island government is to be set up and its constitution approved by the President of the United States.

The issue has been before Congress for the last three decades.

The vote was 386 to 47, far above the two-thirds majority which was required for passage under the procedure by which the measure was brought up. Not a Democrat voted against the bill.

Republicans criticized the Democrats for allowing the bill to be acted upon under parliamentary proceedings which not only required such a majority, but which prevented the offering of amendments and greatly restricted debate.

Some Democrats replied that it was a Republican—Bacon of New York—who forced them to resort to such action by objecting to consideration of the measure under other rules.

The measure, sponsored by Chairman Hare (Dem.), South Carolina, of the "Insular Affairs Committee," has been the subject of much debate in the House. It provides that the islands shall draft a constitution acceptable to the President of the United States, who on approving it shall free the islands by proclamation. The Filipinos would exercise autonomy on domestic affairs, but island exports would be limited by quotas proportioned to American investments in the islands, and immigration also would be quota-limited to a year. American right to military and naval bases on the islands would be reserved.

In the debate, Dyer, St. Louis Republican, said: "The Filipinos are equipped for the responsibility and should have it."

Representative Bacon (Rep.) of Massachusetts gave five minutes to speak by special permission of the House.

"This bill will be at once the redemption of American pledges to the Filipinos and the removal of separate nationhood," Guevara said.

"For 34 years under America's tutelage and guidance we have been preparing for the hour of freedom. You are about to grant us. And for this we shall ever be grateful to the United States."

New York, today made public a letter Secretary of State Stimson wrote to Chairman Bingham of the Senate Territories Committee, declaring that the United States "will not assume the aspect of a demonstration of selfish cowardice and futility on our part" to every foreign eye.

In opposing the move to grant the islands independence, Stimson wrote:

"It needs no imagination to grasp the effect which such a result would have upon the moral prestige and material influence of the United States in the Far East."

"Abandonment of Ward."

"To every foreign eye it would be a demonstration of selfish cowardice and futility on our part. No matter under what verbal professions the acts of withdrawal were clothed, to the realist observers of that part of the world it would inevitably assume the aspect of abandonment of the ward we had undertaken to protect."

"In the Orient, far more even than in the Occident, prestige is the measuring rod of success. Such a change would be an irreparable blow to American influence."

"Again, our presence in the Philippine Islands has already contributed to the development of a new base of political equilibrium throughout the area of the Western Pacific and Eastern Asia. At present, or within any definite future, withdrawal of American sovereignty from the Philippines and the termination of American responsibility in and for the islands would profoundly disturb that equilibrium."

"It would inevitably have an unsettling effect in the relation to"

SECOND SON SAYS WOMAN TRIED TO END BORDLEY SUIT

Frank Tatum Testifies Brother, Robert, Was Sent Here to Withdraw $1,000,000 Will Action.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, April 4.—Frank D. Tatum of Los Angeles, a son of Mrs. Adele L. Tatum, who is suing to break the will of her sister, Mrs. Blanche Bordley, testified today his mother had expressed great displeasure over the suit as late as last Wednesday, after the case had been on trial in Circuit Judge Rutledge's court two weeks.

Tatum, who arrived in St. Louis yesterday, is a witness for the Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Co., executor of the $1,000,000 estate, and various beneficiaries. He admitted his expenses to St. Louis were paid by the trust company.

Describing a visit to his mother last Wednesday, the witness said she told him, "You can see the condition I am in. Why did I do this (meaning the suit) have prevented the last days of my life?" She is 85 years old.

She said, Tatum testified, that she had sent another son, Robert, to St. Louis to withdraw the suit but that he had gone back to Los Angeles by airplane and tell her the trust company and not her own attorneys were making charges that her sister suffered delusions and believed she was a reincarnation of Mary, Queen of Scots. Robert also had told the witness repeatedly that most of the estate had been lost through bad investments by the trust company.

Reminds Her of Contract.

Tatum said he reminded her that her father had a contract to get 50 per cent of anything that she might realize from the contest and that her son, Clifford, was to get 50 per cent of anything she realized, adding, "It doesn't look like you will get much."

It has been explained that Clifford Tatum's contract is not to be effective until Mrs. Tatum is dead and that the money would be spent in caring for her, described as "not fully developed," and an invalid daughter.

Frank's Children Benefit.

Clifford, Robert, and another son, Arden, have been at the trial previously. Clifford, who is 21, has testified. A $100,000 settlement received $80,000. Previous witnesses have pointed out that Frank had quarreled with his brothers in years past and had not been friendly with them. He admitted this at the stand.

The first intimation by his mother that she did not desire to sue to break the will, which left her $20,000 in trust, came at a birthday party in February, 1931, according to Frank Tatum.

"Not of Unsound Mind."

The witness testified, "She told me, 'They are trying to get me to break Blanche's will on the ground she was of unsound mind, and I can't do it. She was not of unsound mind.' Later she told me the suit had been filed, but was dropping her crazy and preventing her from sleeping at night."

Frank Tatum described Mrs. Bordley, widow of Daniel C. Bordley, widow of Daniel C. Bordley, as a "normal woman." In regard to charges by his mother's attorneys that Mrs. Bordley followed many occult beliefs, he said that she was interested in them as an amusement, adding that she told him, "At heart I am a Catholic. If people get any good out of those things and it fills in their lives, that is something. I don't have to believe in them."

She Liked Bohemian Music.

The witness expressed his belief that Mrs. Bordley was of sound mind. Although other witnesses have said Mrs. Bordley was fond of life in Paris, and the plaintiffs attorneys have tried to show she liked to visit Parisian haunts of Queen Mary, Tatum said she preferred Budapest to Paris, because of Bohemian music she heard there.

Concluding the reading of the deposition of Mrs. Adele L. Tatum of New York, Mrs. Bordley's traveling companion in the last years of her life, attorneys presented Mrs. Tatum's statement that Mrs. Bordley was "the most magnetic woman I have ever seen."

HOOVER ASKS CONGRESS TO JOIN HIM IN FRAMING BROAD ECONOMY PROGRAM

President, Pointing Out Absolute Necessity of Cutting Government Expenses, Calls for Unity of Action.

By PAUL V. ANDERSON, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, April 4.—President Hoover today issued a new call for governmental economy, and recommended the appointment of a commission to determine how it can be achieved.

In an unexpected message to Congress, the President declared that a reduction of $200,000,000 in Federal expenditures during the fiscal year starting July 1 is imperative to avoid a serious deficit in the Treasury's estimate of the revenue to be produced by the tax bill which passed the House last week.

The President declared that the executive branch of the Government had about exhausted its power to save money under existing law, and he remarked that the power of Congress also is limited. Consequently, he concluded that drastic amendments in the statutes are needed to effect additional economies, and he suggested the creation of a new commission, to be composed of members of Congress and heads of executive departments, which would study the situation and recommend changes in the law during the present session of Congress.

Evokes Hostile Response.

The suggestion evoked a hostile response among Democrats and Progressives in Congress, who immediately charged the President with seeking to shirk his responsibility as the budget maker, and of attempting to transfer to Congress the executive duty of furnishing estimates and recommending reductions in Government expenditures.

Senators and Representatives also alluded bitingly to inaccuracies in estimates previously submitted to Congress. It was stated in more than one quarter that Congress was finding it quite impossible to rely either on White House figures of sums needed to carry on Government activities or the revenue to be yielded by proposed new taxes.

"Stupidity Boom."

Reading of the message in the Senate provoked prompt and acrimonious discussion. Senator La Follette, Wisconsin Progressive, read from an article by Dr. Virgil Jordan, noted economist, describing the depression as a "stupidity boom" precipitated by "feather-brained capitalists and light-headed statesmen." Their present principal stock on hand, he said, "imbibed" preferred on which this administration now appears to be as long as it formerly was short on common sense.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, said the President's message was "exceptional." Pointing out that it is the duty of the President to prepare a budget and furnish estimates of the sums of money needed to carry on Federal Government activities, Robinson said:

"I have hitherto called attention to grave errors in the estimates submitted by the President. Indeed, he has admitted one error of approximately $500,000,000. I think when that error was discovered it was the duty of the President to withdraw the budget and revise the figures."

"This message is a proposal to shift to Congress the responsibility for drafting a budget. The President"

COL. LINDBERGH AWAY 24 HOURS ON SECRET TRIP

Returns to Estate in Automobile at Night and Declines to Answer Questions of Reporters.

3 MEN IN PLANE ASK ABOUT BOAT

Spend Two Hours at Gosnold Island and Depart—Betty Gow Leaves in Police Car.

By the Associated Press. HOPEWELL, N. J., April 4.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh returned last night from a 24-hour trip which he and the State police declined to discuss.

"We will answer no questions as to the whereabouts of any member of the Lindbergh family," was the way the State police put it.

Returning last night Lindbergh in his automobile met a machine carrying newspaper men, and stopped. "Are you police officers?" Lindbergh asked.

The reporters identified themselves, then asked him where he had been.

"Thank you," Lindbergh replied and drove on.

An amphibian plane landed at Gosnold Island near Martha's Vineyard, Mass., yesterday. Three men, two elderly and one young, got out of the plane and made inquiries about the boat they referred to as the "Sally." No such boat had been seen. After a two-hour stopover, during which the men lunched, they flew away. One of the men was frequently addressed as "Colonel" and one of the others as "Doctor," but residents of the island said none of the men resembled Lindbergh.

Significance was attached to the Gosnold Island visit in view of the fact that John H. Curtis, Norfolk (Va.) boat builder and one of three Norfolk negotiators acting in the kidnapping case, left Norfolk Saturday on a mission reported connected with the kidnapping. Neither of his two associates, Rear Admiral J. H. Burrage and the Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, would comment.

Lindbergh's trip over Sunday was the first he has made from the estate, so far as is known, since his baby was stolen the night of March 1.

Col. Schwarzkopf said today that Col. Lindbergh felt that under existing circumstances he should be privileged to move without the incumbrance of either check-up or accounting. The statement was in answer to inquiries as to whether Lindbergh intended to make any statement regarding his week-end trip.

The baby's nurse, Betty Gow, left the estate last night in a State police car. This gave rise to reports that she had been taken somewhere for questioning. Police have stated repeatedly they are satisfied Miss Gow has told them all she knows.

Fishermen Identify Plane Pilot as Lindbergh.

By the Associated Press. CUTTYHUNK, Mass., April 4.—Two Cuttyhunk fishermen today positively identified the pilot of a large amphibian plane which landed here yesterday in search of a yacht as Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. One of the men, Charles Thiton, said he had seen many pictures of Lindbergh and recognized him without question.

Cuttyhunk residents said the plane contained four men, three of whom appeared to be misbegotten, and that they were looking for a 25-foot yacht named Sally. The yacht was described as having two men and two women aboard. The men did not make known their identity but the two fishermen said they were positive the pilot was Lindbergh.

Public Service Commission Holds That Deal Would Be Against Public Interest.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 4.—The application of the Union Electric Light & Power Co. for permission to buy voting trust certificates representing 25.2 per cent of the stock of its only competitor in St. Louis, the Laclede Power & Light Co., was denied by the Public Service Commission in an order this afternoon.

The commission held that the harmonious and efficient conduct of both companies would be hampered and impaired, since the purchase would entitle Union Electric to place one director on the Laclede Power board, under the cumulative voting system, and would be adverse to the public interest. The Union Electric director would be acting in the interest of Laclede Power's rival, the combination pointed out.

Hearings on the application, which was filed last Sept. 28, were conducted in November and December. Union Electric contended the acquisition would be beneficial to the public and its president, Louis H. Egan, testified it had been his company's intention to acquire control of Laclede Power and consolidate it with Union Electric. It was said that Laclede Power did less than one-tenth of the volume of Union Electric business within St. Louis.

Laclede Power opposed the application as contrary to public interest, and so did the City of St. Louis.

FOUR KILLED IN PLANE CRASH IN SNOWSTORM

Minnesota Men Were on Way to Detroit to Attend Aircraft Show.

By the Associated Press. DULUTH, Minn., April 4.—Four men were killed today in a crash in a snowstorm in a Duluth crash 25 miles north of Duluth.

They were Herb (Dutch) Fuller, 25 years old, pilot; H. E. Kervinen, 35, aviator; T. J. Somero, 32, fur buyer and part owner of the plane, and his brother, William Somero, 25. They all lived at Ely, Minn.

Fuller flew into a snowstorm near the farm home of John Fierem, who heard the plane crash. Fuller apparently was blinded by the heavy snow on the windows of the cabin plane. The plane hit a snow-covered fence, and all four were instantly killed, Fierem reported.

The motor was driven back into the cabin, crushing all four to death instantly. The plane did not catch fire. Fuller and Kervinen, released from an Ely hospital only a few days ago, still wore bandages because of injuries in a forced landing on March 27. If the plane had cleared the fence it would have landed in a large field.

LEAPS SAFELY AS PLANE LOSES WING AT 320 MILES AN HOUR

Jimmie Wedell Shoots Disabled Craft Up to 500 Feet and Then Jumps.

By the Associated Press. PATTERSON, La., April 4.—Jimmie Wedell, noted airplane racer of New Orleans, yesterday jumped safely with a parachute from his plane after it had lost a wing at an altitude of 500 feet while traveling 320 miles an hour.

The plane fell a few hundred feet from the place where Wedell floated down unhurt. It was demolished. The ship had just been constructed here for delivery to a California oil company. All tests except the speed test had been made before representatives of the oil company when Wedell took the plane up. Officials had asked him to place up. Officials had asked him to place up.

Wedell was making 320 miles an hour at an altitude of only about 100 feet when the left wing began to crumple. He shot the plane up and succeeded in reaching a height of 500 feet before the wing collapsed.

GIFT OF SALMON FOR HOOVER

16-Pound Fish, First of Season, Sent from Bangor, Me.

By the Associated Press. BANGOR, Me., April 4.—In accordance with a local custom, 16 pounds and nine ounces of Penobscot salmon was shipped from here to Washington today as a gift to President Hoover.

The salmon, the first one caught in the Bangor pool this season, was bought by Harry A. Chapman, hotel man, from Robert Blair, who hooked it. The fish is the largest and handsomest "first salmon" caught locally in many years.

PORTLAND, ORE., MAYOR AND OTHERS INDICTED

Charges of Malfeasance and Advocating Bribery Charged Follow Market Site Inquiry.

By the Associated Press. PORTLAND, Ore., April 4.—Mayor George E. Baker and City Commissioners R. E. Riley and John M. Mann were named in indictments returned today by the Multnomah County grand jury. Charges of malfeasance in office and of advocating the commission of a felony, namely bribery, were made against the officials. Twenty-three indictments were returned naming 11 persons.

The grand jury spent more than a month investigating the Fifth Street Public Market site and the first street site.

The others indicted included Kenneth Harlan and James Carey of the rate expert firm of Carey & Harlan, who appeared as witnesses in the market case; Harry Gross, attorney for those supporting the Fifth street site; A. A. Hampson, attorney; Paul Parrenas, attorney; O. Labregard, city engineer; Lee Wilson and L. T. Merwin.

GIRL ROBBER RETURNS FIRE

Shoots at Filling Station Man After Directing Holdup.

By the Associated Press. KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 4.—A girl exchanged shots with a filling station operator here early today after she had directed the robbery of the attendant by two male companions.

After Harry Anschutz had filled the tank of a sedan as instructed by a girl in the rear seat of the automobile, she said, "All right, boys, stick him up." The "boys" complied, taking a small sum from Anschutz and a .22-caliber rifle. As the car drove away, Anschutz fired a revolver. The girl leaped from the sedan window and returned the fire. Police identified the young woman as an attractive blonde who has directed numerous holdups here in the last two years.

PERISHES IN SNOW AFTER PARACHUTE LEAP IN STORM

Lieutenant Who Jumped From Plane Feb. 1, Found Dead in California Mountains.

VISALIA, Cal., April 4.—Lieut. Edward D. Hoffman, Army Reserve aviator who leaped safely from his plane in a Sierra blizzard Feb. 1, later perished in an attempt to find shelter, finding of his body in mountain snow has revealed. The body was taken to his home in Tacoma, Wash., today.

Inquest witnesses last night recounted his tragic fight against the elements. Hoffman's body was found yesterday in a rugged region of the Sequoia National Park. The wrecked plane was found by two mountain residents Friday.

The coroner's jury found Lieut. Hoffman died from exposure after making a parachute leap following the example set a short time before by his flight companion, Lieut. William A. Cooke Jr. Cooke found shelter in a cabin and was rescued next day by forest rangers.

EFFORT TO SPEED REHEARING ON LACLED VALUATION FAILS

Representatives of City and Company Sought to Arrange Agreement on Stipulations.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 4.—A conference, held here today in the hope of agreeing on stipulations which might shorten the rehearing of the Laclede Gas Light Co. valuation case, was unsuccessful. Officials of the gas company, City Counselor Muench and other representatives of the City of St. Louis, and the members of the Public Service Commission, attended the conference.

The rehearing was ordered by the State Supreme Court, on an appeal by the City of St. Louis from the Court's original valuation allowance. It was hoped to make stipulations as to some points, which would prevent burdening the record with unnecessary testimony, but no point of agreement was reached. The commission will consider the matter before making any further effort toward speeding action.

CITY DEPARTMENT HEADS TOLD TO CUT EXPENSES 10 PCT.

Board of Estimate Declares Gross Payrolls Must Be Reduced if Other Savings Can't Be Made.

DECREASE IN REALTY ASSESSMENT CITED

Body Says It Will Be Forced to Act Arbitrarily if Other Officials Do Not Co-Operate.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment notified heads of all city departments today that the gross payroll of each department must be reduced 10 per cent unless they can show the board some other means of making their expenditures in the new fiscal year 10 per cent less than the appropriations for the year now ending. The new year starts April 12.

Mayor Miller, Comptroller Nolte and President Neun of the Board of Aldermen, comprising the Board of Estimate, signed the notice. The latter called attention to the 10 per cent reduction in the real estate assessment here ordered by the State Board of Equalization a week ago. This will reduce the city's tax income for municipal purposes this year by $1,439,106. This loss, coupled with the anticipated deficit of about $500,000 at the end of the current year, has caused Nolte to calculate that all departments must be limited to 10 per cent less than they received in the year now closing.

The board urged full co-operation and immediate action, saying it would be forced to act arbitrarily if the department chiefs did not co-operate. The budget bill for the coming year and the standardizing of salaries, City officials have been opposed to cutting pay of municipal workers on the ground their scale is low already. The salaries of the principal elective officials and department heads are established by the charter and cannot be cut without a vote of the people.

Comptroller Nolte said today he probably would recommend to the Board of Estimate tomorrow that the responsibility of determining where economies shall be made be placed on the Board of Aldermen, after the Board of Estimate fixes the budget at 10 per cent less than last year for each department. This statement, made after the order to department heads was issued, was somewhat at variance with the policy enunciated in the letter.

It is Nolte's idea that the Aldermen ought to be charged with the task of determining whether any economies must be abolished, salaries cut, employees dismissed or other economies made. He does not wish to make specific recommendations because the Aldermen last week defeated the city amendment tax bill and previously killed a tax on soft drink establishments. Both of these measures were part of the administration program to raise the $600,000 pledged by the city for the crisis fund for public relief. Some time ago the Aldermen refused to adopt the same taxes.

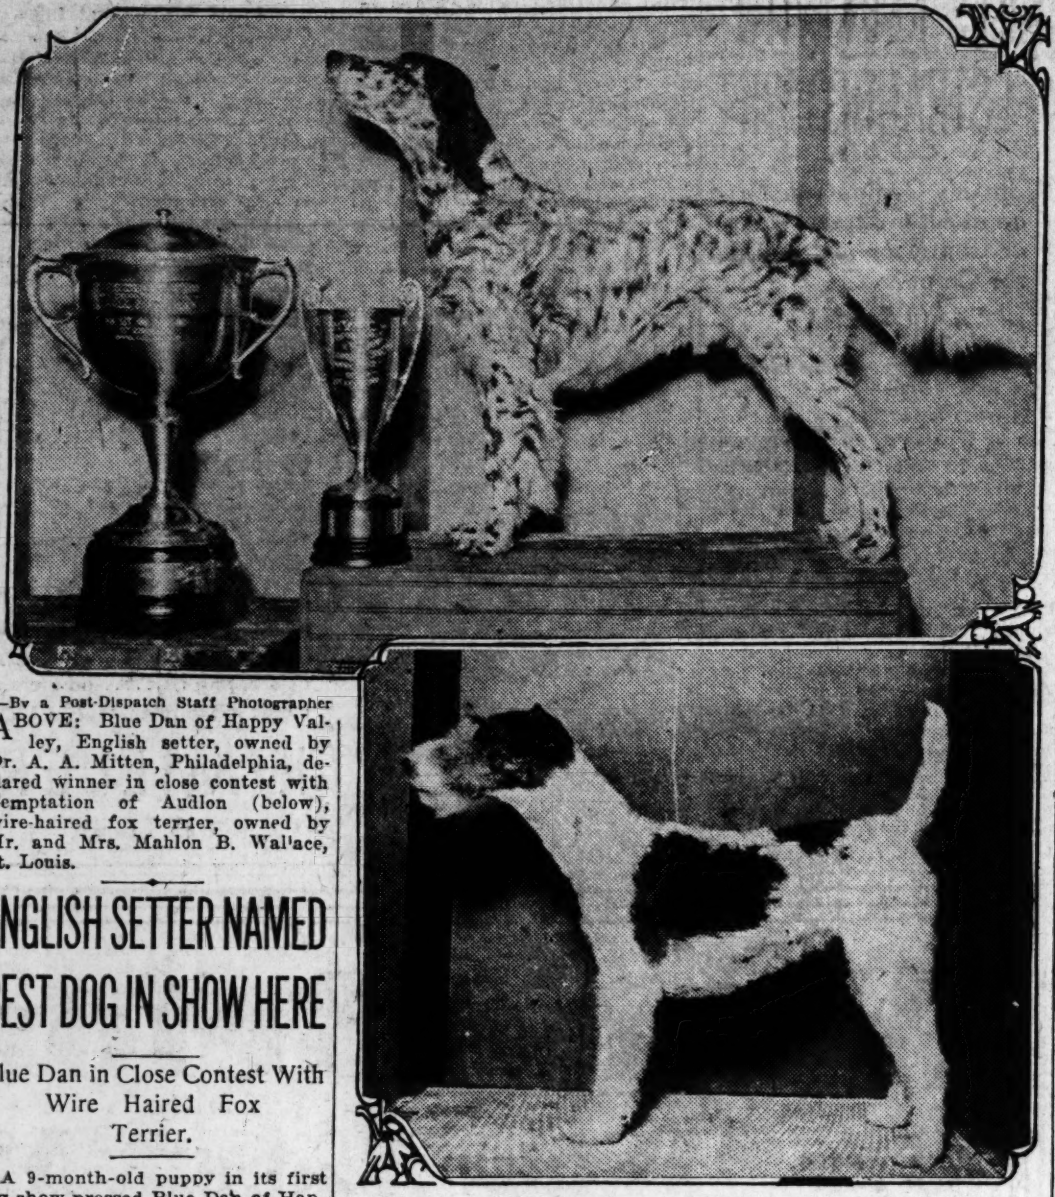

Mayor Declines to Comment. Nolte wants to balance the budget in the coming fiscal year. Mayor Miller, who told today of Nolte's proposal to shift the responsibility to the Aldermen, declared he could not see how the city could escape a large deficit and continue its essential activities. Other cities have done this, he points out. The Mayor did not care to discuss the situation in detail before tomorrow's Board of Estimate meeting.

Louis La Beaume, president of the City Art Museum board, notified the board today that his board had planned to cut expenses in the coming fiscal year before the real estate assessment was reduced, and that the reduction might make it further economies necessary. The salary of Merrie B. Rogers, director of the museum, will be cut from $12,000 a year to $9,000, some salary reductions in principal positions probably will be made and there will be "some regrettable curtailment of activities," La Beaume said.

The Art Museum is supported by a separate tax rate of 2 cents on the $100 assessed valuation, and the administrative board is independent of the city. Any saving beyond its tax income will remain in the museum accounts, not being transferable to municipal uses.

Autopsy in Cafe Man's Death. An autopsy will be performed on the body of Pete Boveri, 28, of 1116 Aubert avenue, who died yesterday after suffering severe burns. Boveri's body was found by police, who were told by efforts relatives to afford Boveri relief through artificial respiration.

R. F. MILLER ENTERS RACE FOR STATE SENATORSHIP

Files as Candidate for Republican Nomination in the Twenty-Ninth District. Robert F. Miller, a lawyer and a State representative from St. Louis, filed notice of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senator from the Twenty-ninth (St. Louis) district today. The senatorship there has been held for years by Frank B. Warner.

Miller who is 30 years old, resides at 6333 Pernod avenue. He said about 2000 citizens had requested him to run. He is president of the Gratiot-Lindenwood Improvement Association and a member of the Executive Committee of the Federation of Improvement Associations.

Repeal of the State bone-dry law, reduction of real estate taxes and allotment of State gasoline taxes collected in the city to maintenance of city streets are principal planks in Miller's platform.

TEX RICKARD ESTATE $350,000

NEW YORK, April 4.—George L. (Tex) Rickard, sports promoter, left an estate of less than $350,000 when he died three years ago. An accounting, approved by Surrogate John P. O'Brien, showed Rickard's widow, Mrs. Maxine Elliott Rickard, their child, and other heirs received $118,062. There remains about $230,000 to be distributed. Blocks of worthless stock in 53 different corporations and numerous unpaid personal notes reduce the original estimates of his wealth. Rickard's interest in the Miami (Fla.) dog track, which cost him more than $250,000, was sold for $10,000. His holdings in the Deauville Casino went for $12,500 when the Florida boom collapsed. His yacht, Maxine, purchased from Walter Chrysler for about $50,000, was sold for $25,000.

ROSE COGHAN, ONCE NOTED ACTRESS, DIES

She Succumbed Saturday at Harrison, N. Y.—Was 80 Years Old.

By the Associated Press.

HARRISON, N. Y., April 4.—The death of Rose Coghlan, noted actress of the last generation, in St. Vincent's here on Saturday, became known today with the filing of a death certificate. She was 80 years old.

Miss Coghlan had been at St. Vincent's retreat for four and a half years. Death was attributed to cerebral hemorrhage. The body was cremated yesterday at Fresh Pond, New York City. Miss Coghlan's home was in Forest Hills, Long Island. Began Stage Career at 12 in England; Became American Citizen. Rose Coghlan was born in 1853 at Peterboro, England, and began her stage career at the age of 12 as Cupid in a play called "Ixion," with her brother, Charles, himself a noted actor, and his wife, Louisa Thornton. This event occurred in a little Scottish town called Grennoch.

Miss Coghlan came to the United States with the Lydia Thompson burlesque troupe in 1871. She made her first appearance in comedy, "A Happy Pair" and "A Woman in White" at the now demolished Wallace's theater, New York, and later appeared in support of E. A. Sothern, the elder, in "Our American Cousin" and "Brother Sam."

Last Appearance in 1921. Her last appearance was as Mme. Rabouin in David Belasco's production of "Deburau," at the Belasco Theater in New York in 1921, celebrating her seventieth birthday in that role.

Her father, Francis Coghlan, was an actor of Charles Dickens and himself well known as a writer and the publisher of Coghlan's Continental Guides.

Perhaps the best known of her roles was Stephanie in Herman Meriville's "Forget-Me-Not." The last performance of the noted stock company at Wallace's was on May 5, 1888, when Miss Coghlan played Lady Teazle in "The School for Scandal," another part she made famous. She had appeared previously as the "Player Queen" in the all-star cast of "Hamlet" in 1888, which marked the retirement of Lester Wallace from the stage. Among her last successes were "Pine Apples," "Our Bitters" and as "Madame Prudence" with Ethel Barrymore in a revival of "Camille." She also appeared for several seasons in vaudeville.

Coghlan married Clinton Edgerly, a Boston lawyer in 1885, from whom she was divorced in 1890. Not long afterward she married John T. Sullivan, her lead partner of the bonds each year, and that the full issue matures April 1, 1940.

The Lindell Tower Apartments is a 14-story building with a large garage, completed in 1929. It was financed by the American Bond & Mortgage Co. of Chicago, now in receivership. Former officers of the mortgage company were indicted last year in Federal court at New York, charged with fraud in the sale of about $5,000,000 of securities. The reported cost of the apartment building was $1,250,000, exclusive of the site. A month ago the building was sold by the American National Assurance Co. to the Lindell Tower Investment Co.

Became American Citizen. In 1916 she celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of her debut on the stage. In 1902 she had become a naturalized American citizen and engaged in stock raising in Montana.

"My most tragic moment," she has related, "occurred at Montreal in 1899, when I was playing at the old Academy of Music in 'White Heather.' When I stepped from my dressing room for the third time several reporters surrounded me and one of them asked abruptly: 'Miss Coghlan, is it true that your brother, Charles, has just died in Galveston?' Thus I learned that my brother had died.

"I played my part that night, played it as Charles would have had me, and as many a poor devil has had to don grease paint and play with death grinning at him from the wings."

In April, 1922, it became known that the famous actress was ill in New York, due almost entirely to worry over her inability to remember her lines and therefore to her failure to find a theatrical engagement. Friends immediately went to her assistance financially.

847 OF 2732 BUILDINGS FOUND IN BAD CONDITION
Inspectors Report on Survey East of Fourth Street Between Cass and Park Avenues.
Building inspectors, in a survey of 2732 structures east of Fourth street between Cass and Park avenues found 847 in bad condition, Director of Public Safety Steininger said today. The survey, he said, was undertaken last November with the two-fold purpose of safeguarding the public and stimulating employment by discovering where repairs were needed. Repairs have been made on 260 buildings, Steininger says, and 20 have been wrecked.

MAPLEWOOD SLAYER SENTENCED TO HANG

Judge McElhinney Refuses to Permit James W. Keller to Withdraw Plea.

James W. Keller, known also as Charles H. Campbell, today was formally sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Mrs. Etta Sauer, whom he killed with an iron pipe at her home in Maplewood, Jan. 4. Sentence was pronounced by Circuit Judge McElhinney of Clayton, who acted on a plea of guilty, made by Keller two weeks ago.

Judge McElhinney set the date for the execution as May 6. Before imposing sentence, Judge McElhinney overruled a plea made last week by Keller's lawyer, James S. McClellan, for permission to withdraw the plea of guilty, and stand trial. On receiving the plea of guilty March 21, the Judge announced that he would impose the death penalty.

McClellan, in support of his motion, argued that it was not customary to fix the death penalty on a plea of guilty, and that the proper and expected punishment in this case was life imprisonment. He said today that he would appeal to the Supreme Court from Judge McElhinney's ruling.

Keller was led into court and sentenced during an interruption in the hearing of a civil suit. His wife was in the courtroom, though not in the courtroom, and she kissed Keller as he was taken back to jail. No demonstration was made by either.

Keller, 29 years old, who was employed in Louis Sauer's downtown machine shop, went to his employer's home at 3104 Walter avenue, when Mrs. Sauer was alone there, and demanded money from her, saying he wished to send his wife to California. When she refused to give him money, Keller struck her repeatedly on the head with a piece of pipe which he had bought with a view to such use, and left the house, after taking a small sum of money. One of her three children found the body a few hours later. Mrs. Sauer was a teacher, and her husband a department head, in Centenary Methodist Sunday school.

Maid Found Dead From Gas. Miss Edna Bald, 18 years old, was found dead of asphyxiation last night at the home of Adolph P. Mies, 5307 Langens Avenue, where she was employed as maid. The body, with a hose leading from an open gas connection in the mouth, was lying on the basement floor. Miss Bald, whose parents reside at Eureka, Ill., had been under treatment for a nervous disorder.

Found Dead, Pistol by Side. The body of Fred E. Schlueter, 52 years old, with a bullet wound in the head, was found in the basement at his home, 2900A Dodier street, early today by his wife, Anna.

A pistol was beside the body. Schlueter had been unable to find work, and had worried over finances, police were informed.

ONE KILLED, 3 INJURED; AUTO UPSETS IN DITCH

Car Forced Off Gravois Road, Near Fenton, by Truck Which Goes On.

Charles L. Rike, 23 years old, 336 Morrison avenue, was killed and three persons were injured Saturday midnight when the automobile he was driving was forced off Gravois road, near Fenton, by a truck, and overturned in a ditch. Rike died of a fractured skull.

Hoyt Ellis, 2525 Lyon street, owner of the machine, suffered a fractured leg and a skull injury. Miss Hazel White and Mrs. Loretta Crews, both of 945 Hickory boulevard and bruised. The accident occurred, according to Hoyt, when Rike attempted to pass the truck at a curve. The driver of the truck did not stop.

Girl, 5, Hurt When Leg Is Caught in Door of Bus. Elle Ila, 5 years old, suffered a fractured foot, when dragged about 10 feet after her leg became caught in the door of a Public Service bus from which she was alighting with her parents at Gravois and Ohio avenues last night. The mother, Mrs. Margie Ila, fell to the pavement in attempting to extricate the child, suffering fractured ribs. They reside at 1606 Menard street.

Three persons were injured in an accident in which four automobiles were involved at Gravois and Clara avenue early yesterday. Raymond La Brayera, 3700 North avenue, St. Louis County, suffered a spinal injury. Miss Lillian and Miss Helen Maas, 4317 North Second street, were cut and bruised.

Others injured in automobile accidents over the week-end were: Miss Elizabeth Stelmassewski, 7 Harcourt drive, Clayton, fractured skull; Joseph Edell, 1024 North Fifteenth street, East St. Louis, fractured facial bone; George and Ellis Athanas, 3553 Olive street, cuts and bruises; Johnson Morgan, 3947 Russell boulevard, 21st right leg; Miss Clara Hillman, Red Light Mo., skull injury and fractured ribs.

$10,000 NECKLACE FOUND BY JOBLESS MAN UNCLAIMED

Piece of Jewelry Picked Up at Lexington Ave. and 46th St. in New York.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, April 4.—A necklace valued by police at $10,000 found in the street Saturday night by Robert Nosworthy, 22 years old, member of an unemployed family, went unclaimed yesterday at the East Fifty-first Street Police Station. Nosworthy said he found the necklace while crossing Lexington avenue at Forty-sixth street with his sister, Virginia, 21.

They asked a pawnbroker how much it was worth. Upon being told "a couple thousand dollars," they became frightened and hastened to turn it over to police.

847 OF 2732 BUILDINGS FOUND IN BAD CONDITION
Inspectors Report on Survey East of Fourth Street Between Cass and Park Avenues.
Building inspectors, in a survey of 2732 structures east of Fourth street between Cass and Park avenues found 847 in bad condition, Director of Public Safety Steininger said today. The survey, he said, was undertaken last November with the two-fold purpose of safeguarding the public and stimulating employment by discovering where repairs were needed. Repairs have been made on 260 buildings, Steininger says, and 20 have been wrecked.

PAROLED MURDERER KILLED
FORCING WAY INTO HOME
Negro Stabbed While Seeking Sister With Whom He Had Quarreled.
Fred Cannon, Negro, paroled murderer, was killed yesterday afternoon in attempting to force his way into the home of Lula Butler, Negro, at 1622 Stockard avenue, Richmond Heights, where his sister had taken refuge after a quarrel.

Lula Butler's son, William Caldo, 1509 Wash street, told police Cannon fell against a knife which he had brandished, seeking to frighten Cannon away. The blade penetrated his heart. Caldo was held pending an inquest.
Cannon, released a year ago after serving eight years of a life term for murder, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary a month ago for shooting at a woman in Brentwood. He was at liberty on an appeal bond. He lived at 7940 Jones avenue, Richmond Heights.

MAN LEAPS FROM EADS BRIDGE
R. L. Sapp, 316 Summit avenue, East St. Louis, reported to East St. Louis police that he saw an unidentified man leap from the center span of Eads Bridge at 7:45 o'clock last night.
The man, who was walking a short distance ahead of Sapp before he jumped, appeared to be about 40 years old, 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighed about 150 pounds and was wearing a dark suit and cap, Sapp said.

CITY ELECTIONS TOMORROW IN 18 COUNTY TOWNS

Mayors to Be Selected in Clayton, Kirkwood, Richmond Heights, Valley Park, and Shrewsbury.

Eighteen cities, towns and villages in St. Louis County will elect officials at municipal elections tomorrow. School board members will be named in the 10 school districts of the county. Polls will be open from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m. in the municipalities and from 7 a. m. until 6 p. m. in school districts.

Mayors and other general officials will be selected in Clayton, Kirkwood, Richmond Heights, Valley Park, Shrewsbury and Florissant. Aldermen will be chosen in University City, Ferguson, Brentwood and Glendale. The villages of Oakland, Ladue, McKnight, Deer Creek, Rock Hill, Huntleigh and Olivette, will elect five trustees each; the town of Bridgeton, six trustees.

There will be only school elections in Maplewood and Webster Groves, which operate under the commission form, as Mayors and Councilmen were elected last April for two-year terms.
University City Contest.
Interest in the elections has been slight except in University City, where candidates sponsored by the Civic Voters League seek to displace three Aldermen on the administration slate, and in Richmond Heights, where a hot fight has been waged between two factions of the Progressive party.

The University City voters' organization charges that the administration, headed by Mayor Ruth, has been extravagant and is trying to establish a political machine to control municipal affairs. It advocates strict economy in expenditures and reduction of taxes.

Mayor Ruth, in a statement today, admitted a 125 per cent increase in tax revenue during his six-year incumbency but explained that this has been due to increases in property valuations and that the tax rate has actually been reduced from 76 cents to 75 cents on the $100 valuation.
The Administration Aldermen seeking re-election in the First, Second and Third Wards, respectively, are Harry A. Wellington, Jefferson R. Edwards and Fred Robinson. Their opponents are Dr. Arthur O. Oment, Dr. Leo P. Fitzgerald and Matt Fogarty.

Contest in Richmond Heights.
In Richmond Heights, issues pertaining to administration of municipal affairs have been submerged by personal rivalries among officeholders for political control. Candidates for Mayor are City Attorney Edward J. Houlihan, a former Mayor, and former Alderman John J. Flanagan. These men formerly worked together under the Progressive Party banner but now head opposing slates. Independent candidates, some of whom are members of the Citizens Party, which was defeated last year and is not represented in the campaign this year, have filed for all of the offices except Mayor and Alderman of the Fifth Ward.

In Clayton, Collector George Roth is opposed for re-election by Alderman Richard D. Chomeau, who objects to Roth's retaining two salaried offices, one as Collector and the other as a deputy in the County Highway Engineer's office.

TWO MOSCOW STUDENTS ADMIT ATTACK ON GERMAN DIPLOMAT
One in Pleading Guilty Says Object Was to Endanger Soviet Relations with Neighbor.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, April 4.—Two former students of Moscow University admitted their guilt when they went on trial today for the attempted assassination of Dr. Fritz von Twardowski, German Embassy Counselor, a month ago.

Judas Stern, one of the men, insisted he alone was responsible for the pistol attack on the German Counselor in a Moscow street, and said his purpose was to endanger Soviet relations with her western neighbors. He denied Japan had figured in the conspiracy, but admitted he had discussed the Far East with his companion and co-defendant, Sergei Vassiliev.

Vassiliev had the same privilege as Stern of making a statement when he pleaded guilty, but declined.
DEARMONT AND WINTER TO DISCUSS STATE GOVERNMENT
Meeting in University City to Be Under Auspices of League of Women Voters.

A Socratic discussion of the Missouri State government will be held Wednesday evening in Harris Hall, University City, under the auspices of the League of Women Voters. Lieutenant-Governor Winter and State Senator Russell L. Dearmont, candidates for the Republican and Democratic nominations for Governor, respectively, will lead the discussion.

Among others who will participate will be State Senator D. L. Bales of Eminence, William Hirth, president of the Missouri Farmers' Association, and representatives of several business and research organizations. The meeting will be open to the public.

HUSBAND SHOTS, KILLS MAN WITH ESTRANGED WIFE

Woman's Companion Fired on in Alton Street—Slay-er Confesses and Is Held for Coroner.

Ora E. Ellis, 22-year-old laborer of East Alton, was fatally wounded at 6:40 a. m. today when he was shot twice in the back with a shotgun by Newton J. Dunn as he was walking in front of Dunn's home at 2316 East Broadway, Alton, with Dunn's estranged wife, Mrs. Grace Dunn, 36 years old. Ellis died an hour later at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Dunn, arrested soon after the shooting when he ran from the back door of his home, admitted shooting Ellis, according to police, saying it was over "family trouble." He and his wife are held for the Coroner.

A witness, Richard C. Whipple, said he saw a man whom he later identified as Dunn run from the East Broadway house with a shotgun as the pair passed. "When he got within about eight feet of the couple," Whipple said, "he fired at the man's back and the man fell to his knees. Dunn cursed the man and said 'You will, will you—take this,' and fired a second time," Whipple related.

"The wounded man fell into the street and Dunn ran over and hit him on the head with the shotgun. Then I took the weapon away from him."

A woman bystander, Mrs. Ollie Ontis, 2618 Denny street, was wounded in both legs by several shotgun pellets. She was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Ellis and Dunn had both been employed intermittently by the Illinois Glass Co. Dunn is 54 years old. During their estrangement, his wife has lived several blocks away from his residence.

Maplewood Beats Bond Issue.
A proposal to issue $37,000 in bonds to retire a loan on the Maplewood City Hall was defeated by 48 votes at a special election Saturday. A two-thirds majority, is required. There were 235 votes for the proposal and 190 against. Only 425 voters went to the polls of more than $800 registered.

A Word About Children and Dentists.

An examination of the teeth of 4000 children in an Eastern city revealed the fact that 40% were noted as having five or more decayed teeth, while 25% had one or more teeth so badly decayed as to be classed as remaining roots. Doctors agree that many cases of heart trouble in older persons had their origin in childhood—many from inattention to dental needs. Take your child regularly to a good dentist. $100,000 ROBBER CAUGHT ON TIP OF JEALOUS WOMAN

Chicago Prisoner Confesses Holdups, Single-Handed, at 14 Banks in the Midwest and California.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, April 4.—Donald Loftus, 30 years old, long sought by Middle West and West Coast authorities as a dangerous bank robber, who confessed alone, was caught yesterday in a barber shop at Mishawaka, Ind., a city of 30,000, about 94 miles from Chicago. Authorities said a jealous woman told them of his whereabouts.

Loftus calmly told of his activities in a confession made to Chicago official: who had quietly moved him from Mishawaka during the day. A hundred thousand dollars, he said, was the loot he obtained in 14 robberies extending from Ohio, Illinois and Wisconsin to California between 1921 and 1931.

He robbed for funds to entertain women, three of whom he bigamously married in recent weeks, he said. He worked alone, but once he "hired a bum" in Plainfield, Ill., to help and "gave him the price of a meal." He carried two .45-caliber pistols.

61 Suits of Clothes. He lived in a luxurious apartment in South Bend, four miles west of Mishawaka, and when the police raided it following his arrest, they found 61 suits of clothes, two riding habits and 17 sets of matched golf clubs. To the management he was "a wealthy broker with connections in the East."

The robberies which the officials said Loftus confessed were: Citizens' State Bank of Delavan, Wis., $6000.

First National Bank of Marengo, Ill., $12,000.

Bank of Dwight, Ill., $1519.

State Bank of Algonquin, Ill., $27,067.97.

People's Loan Bank of Rochelle, Ill., $1195.

Bank in Cincinnati, O., $4000.

Branch of the Bank of Italy in Los Angeles, Cal., $16,000.

Bank in Los Angeles, $3000.

Branch bank in Los Angeles, $6000.

Four California banks whose names he said he could not remember, but where the loot ranged from $2000 to $16,000.

Five identifications.

Witnesses to the holdups in Plainfield, Marengo, Algonquin, Rochelle and Delavan identified him as the robber after viewing him in his cell last night, police said.

Others were asked to come here to attempt further identification.

The authorities said they expected considerable difficulty in deciding where Loftus should be tried first. A warrant for his arrest had been issued at Delavan some time before his arrest.

Assistant District Attorney W. L. Zymour said there last night every effort would be made to take him to Delavan for trial.

Loftus, who said he was born in Green Bay, Wis., but lived in Rockford, Ill., most of his life, talked freely of his affairs with women. Two years ago he married a Catherine Maher in Tucson, Ariz., he said, under the name of Richard Hollister, an alias he used along with those of David Loftus, George Gallagher and Donald Foreman.

In the summer of 1930, he said, he met Miss Evelyn Neal of Chicago while posing as Hollister at Paw Paw, Mich., and married her at Crystal Lake, Ind. There were others too he declared. "I tired of them easily and moved on to the others," he said.

From Prescott he was sentenced to Leavenworth penitentiary for Mann act violation. He said his career as a bank robber began in 1929.

Overlooked $13,000. Loftus told of robbing the Delavan bank, although he admitted he was not the "last laugh."

"An alarm sounded as I was robbing the bank," he said. "But it seems there recently had been a false alarm when wires of the system got crossed. So the police did not come, but sent a small boy instead."

"As I was leaving, the boy asked me if there had been a robbery. I told him no, and laughed all the way back to Chicago. But I didn't laugh the next day when I found in the papers I had overlooked about $13,000."

Police recalled that members of an alleged robber band held here for holdups of six Illinois and two Wisconsin banks had told of reading in the papers of the oversight, going to Delavan and obtaining several thousand dollars.

Loftus, police said, despite his amusement at the Delavan incident, begged not to be returned there. They quoted him as saying he would rather take 10 years in an Illinois prison than take a chance on a life term in Wisconsin.

HIPOLITE RECEIVERSHIP DENIED

Stockholders' Petition Dismissed by Judge Roskopf.
Circuit Judge Roskopf today declined an application for a receiver for the Hipolite Co., a food products concern, 204 Market street.
The petition seeking receivership was filed by Montague Punch, an attorney and stockholder in the concern. He alleged insolvency and mismanagement. Company officers, at a hearing last summer, denied the allegations and introduced evidence to show that the concern had made a profit. In a decision today the Court dismissed both Punch's petition and an intervening petition filed by another stockholder. Punch received his stock in the company as a fee several years ago.

4 SAFES ROBBED, BURGLARS OBTAIN $780 TOTAL LOOT

Two Groceries, Cafe, Wall Paper Shop Raided—Attempts to Open Three Other Strong-Boxes Fail.

Four safe robberies, in which $780 was stolen, were reported over the week-end. In three other instances safes were tampered with, but not entered by burglars.
A policeman found a rear door insecure at the Philip Burg Grocery Co., 1250 South Broadway, and summoned Burg. The safe had been broken open and $400 taken.
Nathan Lieberman found a safe in his grocery at 4200W Finney avenue had been opened and $200 taken. Merchandise valued at $125, including 21 hams, also had been stolen.

The Newcomb Bros. Wall Paper
Co., 2717 Olive street, was entered by burglars, who found the numbers of the safe combination written on a sheet of paper in an office drawer. The safe was opened and $150 stolen.

The restaurant of Tony Ma-nias, 3524 Franklin avenue, was robbed of $30 by burglars who looted the safe.

Edward Robinson, Negro fireman for the Wells-Boettler Bakery
Co., 37 South Vandeventer avenue, was held up Saturday night by three armed men who met him in the wagon shed. He was taken to a wrapping room, where the three robbers were joined by four other men, and was bound hand and foot.
Two members of the party guarded him and the others went to the second floor where they attempted to break open the safe but failed.
All then fled and Robinson freed himself.

Henry Redwine, Negro watchman for the J. B. Gury Manufacturing Co., 801 North Skinker boulevard, saw a man in the office last night hammering on the combination of the safe. He called police but the burglar fled before they arrived.

Employees of the Eastman Kodak Store, 1009 Olive street, discovered a dial had been beaten off a safe but that the strongbox had not been opened. Further inquiry showed the burglars apparently had cut a hole in the roof of Steinberg's women's clothing store, in an adjoining building, before entering the kodak company building. Clothing valued at $600 was taken from a sixth floor alterations room of Steinberg's.

Max Cutler, 5888 Lotus avenue, was robbed of $4 by an armed man who stopped him at Hamilton boulevard and Theodosia avenue.

Thomas Cory, 2744 Russell boulevard, and Miss Mae Bockstiegel, 4524W Papin street, reported a robbery in the Meramec State Park at Sullivan, Mo., where three armed men took $15 from Cory and $5 and a ring from the young woman. Returning the ring, the robbers drove away in Cory's automobile. The machine was recovered in the 9000 block of South
Broadway early today.

Police sent to the scene of a robbery near 2700 Market street arrested one Negro and fired 10 shots at another who escaped. The victim of the robbery could not be found, but the prisoner admitted a holdup in which he and an accomplice had obtained $140 and a knife, according to police. On information the prisoner gave, officers arrested a second Negro, who was suffering from a bullet wound in the left leg. He refused to make a statement.

CITY UPHOLD IN BARRING SERVICE CARS ON GRAVOIS

Judge Green Denies Injunction to Restrain Interference With Operation on Street.

An injunction to prevent the city from interfering with the United Service Car Co. in operation of a service car line over widened Gravois avenue was refused by Circuit Judge Green in a decision today. The Board of Public Service had refused a permit for the line, preventing it from starting.
The case was heard several weeks ago.

The suit contended the company had the right to use the street and alleged the city was violating the Charter and the service car ordinance in keeping the line off. Harry J. Cantwell, attorney for the United company, asserted that the board's refusal was made in the interest of the Public Service Co.
The Judge held that the board had the authority under the ordinance and Charter to refuse the permit.
He declared that the fact the board had granted a permit on the street for Public Service busses was not a controlling factor.

CHICAGO, April 4.—Thomas E. Humphrey killed himself, a note found near his body said, in atonement for theft. "I have been a thief," the note said, "and the penalty for theft is death." Nearby was a bottle that police said had contained poison.

Officials of the company for which Humphrey worked said his books revealed small shortages over the past three years. He was 40 years old.

Humphrey said in the note that "it would be too much to ask my wife to go with me along the path of disgrace and dishonor."

SOME WOMEN ALWAYS ATTRACT

You want to be beautiful. You want the tireless energy, fresh complexion and pep of youth. Then let Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help free your system of the poisons caused by inactive bowels and torpid liver.

For 30 years, men and women suffering from stomach troubles, pimples, listlessness and headaches have taken Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, a successful substitute for calomel, a compound of vegetable ingredients known by their olive color. They act easily upon the bowels without griping. They help cleanse the system and tone up the liver.

If you value youth and its many gifts, take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly. How much better you will feel—and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

WETS DOUBT VALUE
OF CHAIN TELEGRAMSLocal Groups Against Plan to Send Flood of Messages to Congress.

A plan for an "endless chain" of anti-prohibition telegrams to members of Congress, which originated at New York headquarters of the Crusaders, national men's organization, is being followed to some extent in St. Louis, but without the official sanction of the local branch of the Crusaders. The St. Louis office is in room 220 Hotel Jefferson.

L. D. Wood, executive secretary in charge here, said today the local officers, in consultation with officers of the Women's Organization for Prohibition Reform, had decided the "endless chain" plan would be of doubtful effectiveness and would benefit the telegraph companies chiefly. So the Crusaders and the women's organization sent telegrams to the Missouri members of Congress, stating they represented large bodies of voters—12,000 in the case of the Crusaders—and urging immediate action on the prohibition problem as a means of relieving the country of tax burdens.

Some business men who received chain telegrams asking them to wire to Congressmen and to send messages to friends asking them to extend the "chain," were referred to the local office, and Wood said some individual responses had been made, but he did not think the number was large.

It was suggested to those who were asked to send individual messages that they direct them to members of Congress who have hitherto voted dry, rather than those who, like the three St. Louis Congressmen, have supported modification and repeal efforts. As Missouri Congressmen probably will be elected at large this year, the members from the interior of the State are expected to pay more attention to suggestions from St. Louis than they have done in the past.

The message sent to the Missouri Senators and representatives by the St. Louis organization was signed by A. M. Lettice, executive commander of the Crusaders, and by Wood as secretary. It urged "immediate and drastic decrease in governmental costs; immediate amendment of the Volstead act, permitting manufacture of beer, and sufficient taxation thereon to balance the Federal budget; and immediate action for submission to the people of the repeal of the eighteenth amendment."

St. Louis Chamber Takes Poll on Dry Law Referendum.

The St. Louis Chamber of Commerce is polling its members on a proposition to recommend to the United States Chamber of Commerce in convention May 20 at San Francisco, that the national organization take a referendum of its members to determine their views on the continuance of the eighteenth amendment and the national prohibition laws.

Ballots, mailed Saturday, must be at the chamber offices by 3 p. m. Wednesday, and one-third of the 2100 members must vote to make the outcome binding on the board of directors. The result must be in the hands of the national organization by Wednesday midnight to obtain consideration at the May meeting. A petition calling for the local referendum was signed by 75 members.

SOUTH BEND, IND., DRY POLL SHOWS 75.17 PCT. FOR REPEAL

House-to-house Canvass by News-Paper Compares With 77.5 Per Cent in Literary Digest Vote.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The Literary Digest has announced the results of a comparison between its current poll on prohibition and the results of local polls taken by daily newspapers.

In South Bend and Mishawaka, Ind., the South Bend News-Times has conducted a house-to-house canvass with 35 canvassers, getting one yes-or-no vote on prohibition from each home. The votes are placed in a locked box and opened in the presence of a committee. In both communities the local canvass has polled a larger vote than the Literary Digest has thus far reported from those places. In South Bend the local canvass shows 75.17 per cent of the votes for repeal of the eighteenth amendment, while the Digest shows 77.5 per cent for repeal. In Mishawaka the local canvass shows 71.65 per cent for repeal, and the Digest 75.55 per cent.

In Richmond, Va., the News-Leader has made a local poll which gives 93.3 per cent for repeal, as compared with 81.5 per cent shown by the Digest. For the State of Iowa, the Des Moines Register reports 88.2 per cent for repeal, while the Digest's last tabulation showed 63.95 of its Iowa vote for repeal.

WOMEN QUIT CIGARS FOR PIPESBy the Associated Press.
BRIGHTON, England, April 4.—Fashionable young women of Brighton, seashore resort, 2½ taken to pipe smoking and tobaccoists wish they knew exactly what to do about it. A few months ago the girls all were smoking mannikin cigars, but that didn't last long and the tobacco dealers would like to know if pipe smoking is going to fare any better before they lay in a supply of expensive meerschaums and calabashes. Some dealers have highly scented blend of pipe tobacco, but one of the new customers insists on thick, twist tobacco.NEW YORK C. OF C.
FOR DRY LAW CHANGEReport Refers to "Foul Mess"
Produced by Prohibition
Act.By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 4.—The Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York will urge immediate modification or repeal of the eighteenth amendment to permit state control of alcoholic beverages in a report to be presented at the chamber meeting on Thursday.

A copy of the report says "the foul mess produced by our prohibition laws could hardly have been dreamed of when these laws were enacted, even by the most bitter opponents." The chamber on Oct. 4, 1923, adopted resolutions recommending to Congress "that the Volstead act should be revised and modified so as to conform more nearly with public sentiment and on lines that are more reasonable, just and practicable."

Carload of Alcohol From Chicago
Seized in Los Angeles.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 4.—A box car shipment of 4400 gallons of alcohol from Chicago was confiscated in the railroad yards here today by police and Federal prohibition agents.

Police said a "tip from the East" brought about the raid, and he predicted that "at least 15 racketeers and big shot bootleggers of Los Angeles and Eastern cities will be indicted" as a result of the seizure.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The Rev. Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the Methodist Episcopal Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, who has expressed willingness for a referendum on prohibition "every 10 years," was asked by a Post-Dispatch correspondent whether he would approve submission of a resolution for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

"Not unless they told us what we would get instead," Dr. Wilson replied. "I have been struck by the failure of the opponents of prohibition to agree on any program of legislation which they are willing to advocate as a remedy for the alleged ills of prohibition. Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 4.—The Rev. If they offer us a beer and wine system, we need only point to the fact that this would automatically restore the entire liquor bill, would re-establish every problem of distribution, and could further point to the fact that of the ten European countries having the highest capita spirits consumption, five—France, Austria, Hungary, Germany and Holland—have been among the ten largest beer drinkers. Five—France, Austria, Hungary, Serbia and Rumania—have been among the ten largest wine drinkers. Every one of the ten nations having the highest consumption of alcohol in Europe have been among the first ten of either the beer or wine group. The problem is, shall it be license and liquor, or law and loyalty?

"The trouble is there has been so much kicking about prohibition by wets while they have not yet offered us anything. They fight among themselves and agree on nothing. Should they show us a suitable substitute for prohibition and its benefits to the public thereby, I would approve of the submission of such an amendment.
"At our last meeting, the Methodist Board demanded that the wets give an alternative before asking for a referendum. I would favor a referendum now and every ten years until judgment day if the people show they want it and the wets can offer us a suitable alternative."

STOCK MARKET LOSER KILLS MOTHER AND SELF

Woman, Employee, 66, Feared Discharge by Realty Firm at Amesbury, Mass.

By the Associated Press.
AMESBURY, Mass., April 4.—Reported losses in the stock market and a fear that she might lose her position in a real estate office were believed today to have caused Miss Marjorie Jewell, 66 years old, to shoot and kill her widowed mother, Mrs. Marianne Jewell, 88, and then end her own life.
Medical Examiner Mullen said he believed Miss Jewell killed her mother and herself while temporarily insane from worry.
A woman with whom Mrs. Jewell boarded said she found the mother in bed with a bullet wound in her temple, and Miss Jewell on the floor, with a bullet in her head. An old-fashioned revolver was in the daughter's hand.

AMERICAN IS SHOT IN PARIS
George Hamman Said to Have Taken Poison Six Weeks Ago.
By the Associated Press.
PARIS, April 4.—George Hamman of Troy, O., appeared at the American Hospital yesterday with a bullet wound in his chest. He was operated on last night.

Hamman, 39 years old, is employed in a shipping bureau and is a former commander of the Benjamin Franklin Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Paris. Police say he shot himself in the office of the United States Legation. They said he had taken poison six weeks ago when he was demoted by the Lines. He is 39 years old.

000 for Campaign Outline Prospects.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Nine prominent Democrats have joined in forecasting certain victory in the presidential election in 15 states, "excellent prospects" in 18 others, "fair prospects" in 11 and "least probable, but possible" victory in four.

The forecast was in the form of a shaded map of the nation which was printed on the reverse side of yellow "Victory-grams" appealing to more than 100,000 Democrats to contribute to the $1,500,000 "Victory" campaign of the Democratic National Committee.

Democrats all over the nation were asked to contribute to the limit of their ability to insure success at the polls in November and to send in "news from your state" for the Jefferson day rally here April 13, when the party chieftains will "take stock" of the situation in each state.

Signers of the "Victory-grams" were Harry F. Byrd, Speaker John N. Garner, Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, Former Senator James A. Reed, Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, Benjamin Joe T. Robinson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Alfred E. Smith and Gov. George White. Many of these will be speakers at the April 13 rally.

The 15 states listed in the forecast as "sure" to be carried by the Democrats in November included the Solid South and Maryland, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona. These states have 149 electoral votes of the total 531, with 266 necessary to win the presidency.

Four of the Southern states—North Carolina, Virginia, Florida and Texas—went Republican in 1928, as did the four others outside the South.

The four listed as "least probable, but possible" were California, President Hoover's home State; Michigan, Pennsylvania and Vermont. These have 80 electoral votes.

The 18 states with 204 electoral votes listed as "excellent prospects" were Colorado, Connecticut, Kentucky, Montana, Nebraska, New York, Ohio, West Virginia, Delaware, Indiana, Massachusetts, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Nevada, Rhode Island, Washington and Wyoming. The first eight, with 117 votes, were listed as Republican in 1928 and Democratic in 1930.

Of the 11 with 95 electoral votes where "fair prospects" were seen, four switched to the Democratic column in 1930. These were Idaho, Illinois, Kansas and South Dakota and have 46 votes. The others were Iowa, Maine, Minnesota, North Dakota, Oregon, Utah and Wisconsin.

ORDERS SWIFT & CO. TO QUIT
SOLICITING EQUIPMENT TRADE

U. S. Board Bars Use of Packers' Freight Shipment to Get Orders From Railroads.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Federal Trade Commission has ordered the Mechanical Manufacturing Co. of Chicago, to cease the use of the freight shipment of Swift & Co. packers, in soliciting equipment business from railroad companies. The Swift family and Swift estate own a large part of the Mechanical company's stock, the commission found. Transportation to discontinue the practice of assuring railways Swift freight traffic if Mechanical products were purchased.

A similar order was issued by the commission last fall against transportation officers of Armour & Co. and the Waugh Equipment Co., one-time competitor of the Mechanical company.

BANKS' CONVICTION UPHeld

By the Associated Press.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 4.—The State Supreme Court today upheld the conviction of A. B. Banks, former head of a chain of Arkansas banks and insurance companies, on a charge of assisting in the acceptance of deposits in an insolvent bank. He was sentenced to one year in prison.

Banks was convicted in Little Rock Circuit Court a few months ago after the failure of the American Exchange Trust Co. of Little Rock, the State's largest bank. Its closing in November, 1930, took some 40 other banks affiliated through the A. B. Banks interests, down with it, and precipitated a widespread banking collapse in Arkansas. Banks, now living at his old home in Fordyce, Ark., has since been declared a bankrupt.

Parliament Member Ended Life.

By the Associated Press.
HAILSHAM, East Sussex, England, April 4.—The Coroner today returned a verdict that Edward Marjoribanks, young Conservative member of Parliament from the Eastbourne division, committed suicide Saturday night while not in sound mind. Marjoribanks was found shot to death in the billiard room in the home of his stepfather, Lord Hailsham. Relatives said he had been suffering from insomnia.

COMMONWEALTH STUDENTS GO TO KENTUCKY COAL FIELD

Take Copy of Bill of Rights to Present to Sheriff at Harlan.

A delegation of five young teachers and students from Commonwealth College, labor college near Mena, Ark., left St. Louis early today for Harlan, Ky., where it plans to afford relief to striking miners and present the Sheriff with a copy of the Bill of Rights.

Lucien Koch, 24-year-old director of the college, leads the party, which arrived here Saturday in a coupe adorned with signs telling of the purposes of the expedition. The party includes Harold Coy, a faculty member and former St. Louis newspaper man, and three students, Sam Sandberg, Isaac Greenberg and Meo Grulivo.

Koch, who said they planned to speak at Harlan by noon today, spoke at the Young People's Assembly at Temple Israel yesterday, saying there is a tendency of some churches and universities to "adopt a liberal attitude where generalities are concerned, but to avoid a stand where a definite injustice is involved."

"Commonwealth College believes that the cause of bringing relief to the striking miners in the Kentucky coal field and protecting the civil liberties of citizens entering that area is a righteous one," Koch declared.

"Believing likewise that principles should be acted upon," he added, "Commonwealth College's delegation is determined to do all it can to call public attention to the intolerable conditions existing in the Harlan coal area."

Robbers Cut Into Unusual Safe.

By the Associated Press.
LE ROY, Kan., April 4.—After severing all telephone and telegraph wires leading out of town and making prisoners of Max Coffin, night watchman, and five other persons, two or three robbers worked for more than two hours early today to cut a hole into a safe in the First National Bank here, only to find it empty.

George Sims, assistant cashier, said the safe had not been used for three years. The robbers released their captives.

Sermon by Bishop Johnson.

Bishop Frederick Foo'e Johnson of the Episcopal diocese of Missouri preached yesterday in Christ Church Cathedral, following his return from Europe, Cal., where he spent several months. He spoke from an Easter text.

CHILDREN'S COUGHING

Night Coughing robs them of Sleep...

That dreaded sound again—your child coughing in the night! Wakefulness for both of you, and next day your child is listless, peevish, and you worry. It must not go on.

Put an end to night coughing. Give your youngster Pertussin. They'll like it, and it's absolutely safe—entirely free from injurious drugs. Doctors have prescribed it for children and adults for over 25 years. Get it at your druggist's.

That's the happy state of health and pep a man enjoys when he gives his vital organs a little stimulant!

When your system is stagnant and you feel sluggish, headachy, half-drowsy—don't waste money on "tonics" or "regulators" or similar patent medicines. Stimulate the liver and bowels. Use a famous physician's prescription every drug store keeps. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

This appetizing syrup is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. One dose will clear up almost any case of headache, biliousness, constipation. But if you want to keep in fine shape, feel fit the year 'round, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin every few days. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel better in every way. You will never need to take another laxative.

Give the children a little of this delicious syrup two or three times a week. A gentle, natural stimulant that makes them eat and keeps the bowels from clogging. And saves them from so many sick spells and colds.

Have a sound stomach, active liver and strong bowel muscles that expel every bit of waste and poison every day! Just keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin on hand; take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. See if you don't feel new vigor in every way. Syrup pepsin isn't expensive.

DEATH LAID TO ANESTHETIC

Mrs. Esther Holmes Died at Lutheran Hospital.

Mrs. Esther Holmes was accidentally asphyxiated Thursday night by an anesthetic being administered preparatory of setting the bones of a fractured arm, at the Lutheran Hospital, the Coroner decided today. Chemical analysis of the viscera, after a post mortem examination had failed to establish the cause of death, disclosed the presence of ether.

Mrs. Holmes, widow of Charles Holmes, had been a public school teacher for more than 30 years. She broke her arm Thursday afternoon in a fall down stairs at Monroe School. She lived at 755 Clara avenue.

PAUL RICHARDS' SECOND TRIAL IN KIDNAPING SET FOR MAY 9

The second trial of Paul A. Richards, attorney charged with kidnaping Alexander Berg for ransom, was set today by Circuit Judge Oasing for May 9.

The setting was made by agreement between Circuit Attorney Miller and Verne Lacy, Richards' attorney, who is recovering from illness.

George Peak, alleged to have pointed out Berg to the kidnapers as a desirable victim, is scheduled to go to trial before Circuit Judge Oasing next Monday. Two others of six defendants in the case have pleaded guilty and two have been convicted by juries.

German Doctor's DOUBLE Treatment For Constipation

Dr. Carl Weschcke, only, but Adlerika acts on both upper and lower bowels (on both large and small intestine).

And in addition to intestinal cleansing, the bacteriological tests of Dr. H. L. Shoup of New York shows that Adlerika greatly reduces the disease breeding germs in the intestines.

Often the FIRST spoonful of Adlerika brings out surprising old poisonous matter which you never would believe was in your system and which may have caused gas or other stomach trouble.

Adlerika acts gently because it contains no aloes, senna or harmful narcotics. Get a bottle today, in a few hours you'll feel the amazing cleansing effect of this German doctor's remedy. Sold by leading druggists.

Take this to any druggist and get the discount on your first bottle. Pay 15c each for this, but only 10c for the rest. Write your name and address on the back of each coupon. ADLERIKA CO., Dept. 44, St. Paul, Minn.

If what you want is. MORE for your MONEY

—remember canned foods bring you extras that don't cost you a penny

ARE you getting your money's worth from what you spend for food? Not if you're paying for all the waste parts which you can only throw away. Not if you're spending too much time getting food ready to cook. Not if you're using more fuel than there's any need to use. Not if you're buying certain foods for their vitamins—with no assurance those vitamins are still there.

But you are getting your money's worth if you're using canned foods—getting a great deal more than you could get from other foods at any price. Utter convenience. No long cooking. No costly waste. Uniform quality, delicious flavor. All the nutritive value of the food—which canning actually conserves.

Getting more for your money is like saving money. Use canned foods often—and SAVE.

NATIONAL CANNERS ASSOCIATION
WASHINGTON, D. C.

The Canned Foods Question Box

How many canned foods are there?
Well over two hundred—vegetables, fruits, meat products, sea food, milk and specialties.

Do canned foods cause "ptomaine poisoning"?

The type of illness generally called "ptomaine poisoning" is due to bacteria which are common to all foods. These bacteria have such low resistance to heat that they are killed by the canning process. Dr. M. J. Rosenau of Harvard Medical School, who has made an exhaustive study of ptomaine poisoning, recently stated: "Canned foods are the safest foods which come to our tables because of the sterilization to which they are subjected during the process of canning."

Are canned foods all right for children?

Yes. You can give them to your children with confidence. They have the nutritive value of home-cooked foods and are equally wholesome.

The Association welcomes, and will answer promptly, letters of inquiry concerning any matters pertaining to canned foods.

Here's a shopping hint for rainy weather:

Why go traipsing about in the rain, when you can sit snugly at home and order your food by phone? That's one of the joys of using canned foods—you don't have to go to the store to select just what you want. Simply tell your grocer the brand or label to send. You know that the food inside the can will be the kind you like and want—same in quality and grade—without a chance of disappointment, so far as quantity and flavor are concerned.

POLITICAL TRUCE ENDS IN GERMANY; 3 SLAIN IN RIOTS

Many Are Wounded as Reds and Fascists Clash and Both Fight Police — Hitler Assails Hindenburg

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, April 4.—Germany's campaign for the presidential runoff election began yesterday. Clashes resulted in the death of two persons, the wounding of many and the arrest of hundreds. The election will be held April 10. While Adolf Hitler, National Socialist (Fascist) leader, denounced the Government under President von Hindenburg, his forces fought with Communists. Communists fought with Fascists, and both fought the police and the "Iron Men" of the Republic. Hitler began his campaign at noon yesterday, ending the political truce ordered by the Government for the Easter holidays. He mounted a rostrum at Leipzig before 50,000 people and attacked the Government for "failing to show any positive achievements in 14 years of existence."

"I will fight to the bitter end," he said. Preceding him on the platform was August Wilhelm, son of the former Kaiser, who declared the Nazis were not fighting von Hindenburg as a man, but the "politicians who misused his name for their own nefarious purposes."

Adam Stegerwald, Minister of Labor in Chancellor Bruening's Cabinet, led off for von Hindenburg's campaign. The Nazis, he said, "seek to establish a dictatorship similar to that of Italy, and to create a party of the army to enforce their dictatorial views upon the German people. Such a state of affairs would put everything the country has suffered in the past into the shade."

In Berlin a group of Communists was badly battered by the police in Gelsenau Strasse. One was shot in the chest and four were arrested. Four Nazis were injured in the northern section in a fight with Communists. At Chemnitz, where Ernst Thaelmann, Communist candidate, opened his campaign, one Communist and one Nazi suffered bullet wounds. Communists fired on a group of Nazis at Mittweida, killing one and wounding two. A Communist was shot and killed at Kalau.

Police today closed the Berlin headquarters of Hitler's storm troops on the ground that Nazis congregated around the entrance, molested passers-by and caused unrest.

REVENUE BILL'S STATUS; FACTORS TO BE OVERCOME BEFORE PASSAGE

Exposition of Facts Given and Certain Misapprehensions Cleared Up — Uncertainties Include Yields, Budget Needs.

NEW INCOME TAXES AND THE FISCAL YEAR

Only Partly Effective for Balancing the 1933 Budget—Swing Proposal on Surtax and the Treasury's Figures.

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—It is evident from current discussion that certain misapprehensions about the pending tax increase bill should be cleared up. In some instances, wrong impressions appear to have been the result of deliberate misrepresentation or concealment.

In the first place, it should be understood that the fight over the bill has not ended with its passage by the House. It is more nearly correct to say that the battle has just begun.

The first phase took place in the House Ways and Means Committee, which held hearings from Jan. 23 to Feb. 14. Yielding to a pressure applied in part by those elements of the Democratic party that want it to pursue a conservative course, attractive to large campaign contributors, the committee on March 8 reported out a bill whose main feature was a general sales tax calculated to yield about $600,000,000.

"Selling" Campaign Fails. Then began a campaign to "sell" the general sales tax to Congress and the public. The Treasury, which had opposed this tax in its recommendations to Congress, now came to its support on the ground that it offered a practicable method of balancing the budget in the fiscal year 1933. The Treasury did not say, and never has said, that it offered the only such method.

Others were less constrained by the facts. Some of the orators in the House, if they did not say so in terms, gave the impression that the sales tax was the only means of balancing the budget. Those who opposed the tax were accused of assaulting the credit of the United States.

The campaign failed. On March 24 the House, breaking away from its leaders, killed the sales tax in a vote of 223 to 153. It then proceeded to write a substitute program including higher estate taxes than those approved by the Ways and Means Committee, a tax on dividends paid on stocks, higher postal rates, and a series of "selective" taxes on luxuries and semi-luxuries. In voting for these special taxes in place of the general sales tax, the House adopted the principle laid down by the Treasury itself in its December proposals. Leaders in the fight against the sales tax showed themselves as keenly in favor of balancing the budget as those on the other side.

On the final vote, the House backed away from the Swing amendment, which had sought to raise the surtaxes to a maximum of 65 per cent on income over $5,000,000, but it affirmed the killing of the sales tax, by a vote of 215 to 150, and thereby made it extremely improbable that this feature of the original bill will be in the law as finally enacted.

Controversy in Senate. The controversy over the tax bill will enter a new phase when the measure is taken up by the Senate. Determined efforts will be made there to restore the Swing rates or to make them even higher, and probably there will be a fight to increase the estate tax rates beyond the figures proposed by the successful Ramseyer amendment. Various other features of the bill, notably the tariff taxes voted by the House, are certain to provoke extended debate.

In the Senate, the bill will first be taken up by the Finance Committee. There will be, inevitably, a clash in the committee between conflicting schools of economic thought—between the views of Senators like Smoot or Utah, the chairman, and the views of Senators like La Follette of Wisconsin and Cogan of Colorado. After the committee gets through with the bill—and nobody can tell how long this will take—it will be reported to the Senate.

The Finance Committee's draft of the bill will be the third in the series, the first two having been the drafts prepared by the House

WASHINGTON, April 4.—It is evident from current discussion that certain misapprehensions about the pending tax increase bill should be cleared up. In some instances, wrong impressions appear to have been the result of deliberate misrepresentation or concealment.

In the first place, it should be understood that the fight over the bill has not ended with its passage by the House. It is more nearly correct to say that the battle has just begun.

The first phase took place in the House Ways and Means Committee, which held hearings from Jan. 13 to Feb. 14. Yielding to a pressure applied in part by those elements of the Democratic party that want it to pursue a conservative course, attractive to large campaign contributors, the committee on March 8 reported out a bill whose main feature was a general sales tax calculated to yield about $500,000,000.

"Selling" Campaign Fails.
Then began a campaign to "sell" the general sales tax to Congress and the public. The Treasury, which had opposed this tax in its recommendations to Congress, now came to its support on the ground that it offered a practicable method of balancing the budget in the fiscal year 1933. The Treasury did not say, and never has said, that it offered the only such method.

The campaign failed. On March 14 the House, breaking away from its leaders, killed the sales tax in a vote of 221 to 153. It then proceeded to write a substitute program including higher estate taxes than those approved by the Ways and Means Committee, a tax on dividends paid on stocks, higher rental rates, and a series of "selective" taxes on luxuries and semi-luxuries. In voting for these special taxes in place of the general sales tax, the House adopted the principle laid down by the Treasury itself in its December proposals. Leaders in the fight against the sales tax showed themselves as keenly in favor of balancing the budget as those on the other side.

On the final vote, the House backed away from the Swing amendment, which had sought to raise the surtaxes to a maximum of 65 per cent on income over $5,000,000, but it affirmed the killing of the sales tax, by a vote of 225 to 160, and thereby made it extremely improbable that this feature of the original bill will be in the law as finally enacted.

Controversy in Senate.
The controversy over the tax bill will enter a new phase when the measure is taken up by the Senate. Determined efforts will be made there to restore the Swing rates or to make them even higher, and probably there will be a further increase in the estate tax rates beyond the figures proposed by the successful Ramseyer amendment. Various other features of the bill, notably the tariff taxes voted by the House, are certain to provoke extended debate.

In the Senate, the bill will first be taken up by the Finance Committee. There will be, inevitably, a clash in the committee between conflicting schools of economic thought—between the views of Senators like Smoot of Utah, the chairman, and the views of Senators like La Follette of Wisconsin and Costigan of Colorado. After the committee gets through with the bill, and nobody can tell how long this will take—it will be reported to the Senate.

The Finance Committee's draft of the bill will be the third in the series, the first two having been the drafts prepared by the House Ways and Means Committee and the draft approved by the House. It is this third version, with changes that cannot now be foreseen, but certainly with material changes, that will be reported to the full Senate. Then the Senate, on the floor, will tear the bill to pieces and put it together again, and after this has been done and the bill has been passed, it will be sent back—now in its fourth distinct incarnation—to the House.

When It Gets to Conference.
The House will accept some of the Senate's amendments and reject others, and then the bill will be placed in the hands of a joint committee of the two branches—the Conference Committee—for the adjustment of differences. Behind closed doors the bill will be rewritten, and the result, in the form of a "conference report," will be submitted to the two houses for adoption or rejection. Passage of the bill will be completed only upon the adoption of this report by the House and Senate. The bill then will be ready for the signature, or the veto, of the President.

This is the long and tortuous road that must be traveled by every important piece of legislation on which there are differences between the two branches. The last tariff bill was in the making for nearly 18 months. It is imperative, of course, that the tax bill be enacted in a much shorter space of time, but such are the possibilities of delay that some Congressmen have predicted the bill will not be passed in time for adjournment prior to the national political conventions in June.

If this turns out to be the case, Congress will merely recess for the conventions and resume work on the bill after their conclusion. The probabilities at the moment are that Congress will dispose of the tax bill and other pressing business and adjourn early in June. This was the prediction Saturday of Speaker Garner, who said that nine-tenths of the members of the House were eager to adjourn before the conventions.

No One Knows Exact Needs.
Another point to be noted in connection with the tax bill is that nobody knows—and nobody can know—exactly how much new money will be required to balance the budget. The fiscal year in which it is hoped the budget will be balanced is that beginning July 1, 1932, and ending June 30, 1933. This is the fiscal year 1933. The deficits for the two preceding fiscal years, 1931 and the current year of 1932, are water—or money—over the dam. For 1931 the deficit was over $500,000,000 and for the current year it will be in the neighborhood of $2,500,000,000. These deficits have been or will be covered by additions to the national debt. The aim now is to increase the revenues to a point where no borrowing will be necessary for the fiscal year 1933.

For that year, according to Treasury estimates, the indicated deficiency, on the basis of prospective expenditures and assuming no increase in taxes, was about $1,250,000,000. This estimate, of course, is itself a guess. Congress has set out to close the gap in two ways: First, and chiefly, by providing new taxes to produce about a billion dollars; second, by reducing expenditures. There is still much uncertainty as to the amount by which expenditures should be or can be cut, and there is equal or greater uncertainty as to the amounts that will be produced by the new tax levies.

Many Shots in the Dark.
Most of the estimates of yields have been, obviously, shots in the dark, whether by the Treasury, by the Ways and Means Committee, or by individual members in debate. Shortly before the passage of the bill, the Treasury has lowered its own previous estimates. Several members charged Secretary Mills with issuing misleading figures. Representative Milligan (Dem.), Missouri, said that Mills was using a "cold Mellon trick." Speaker Garner said the Treasury's estimates could "only be justified on the assumption that the business of the country is going completely to hell in the next two years," and Representative La Guardia (Rep.), New York, insurgent leader, declared some of the amounts estimated to be yielded by the new taxes on wealth were "absurdly low."

Mills replied in a formal statement Saturday that the estimates of the Treasury "represent our very best judgment."

In some cases there were fantastic differences between the Treasury estimates and those of other experts. For instance, the Treasury settled upon the estimate of $17,000,000 as the amount that would be yielded by the Swing surtaxes on income over $100,000 for the fiscal year 1932. These surtaxes were first voted into the bill and then, in the final stage of the passage of the bill through the House, voted out again. To Swing and other proponents of the surtaxes, the estimates seemed "ridiculously low."

The New Income Taxes.
It should be explained that all estimates of the yield of new income taxes for the fiscal year 1932 are for half a year only. Special taxes in the bill will take effect soon after its signature by the President, but the new income taxes will only become effective on incomes of the calendar year 1932. The Treasury wanted them to be made effective on incomes of 1931, but the House Ways and Means Committee decided against retroactive application.

Because of this decision, which is written into the bill, the first two payments of income taxes for the fiscal year 1932—the year for which the budget is being balanced—will be made at the present rates.

IRELAND DOESN'T KNOW WAR IS OVER, SAYS G. B. SHAW

Neither Does South Africa, He Declares on Return From Cape Colony.

By the Associated Press.
SOUTHAMPTON, England, April 4.—George Bernard Shaw arrived today from his winter sojourn in Cape Colony, South Africa, uttering comments on South Africa and Ireland. Here is what he told the reporters who met him at the gangplank:

"South Africa does not know the war is over—the Boer war. The British and Dutch are still conducting a lively feud. The Dutch are a remarkable people mentally and physically, but religiously they live in the seventeenth century and believe in a brimstone hell. The empire ought to send a few missionaries to them. I have done all I can."

"There is a terrible native question in South Africa and it is no place for poor white people. The only thing for poor whites is the lethal chamber."

"Ireland is like South Africa—the Irish don't know the war is over. The Irish republican army still thinks Ireland is enslaved and must go on being 'agin' government."

HARD LIQUOR PRICES HIGH AS FINLAND DROPS DRY LAW

People Will Celebrate Tomorrow
With Whisky at $8.50 a Bottle,
Cognac $9.25.

By the Associated Press.
HELSINGFORS, Finland, April 4.—With the price of whisky fixed at $8.50 a bottle and cognac at $9.25, Finland prepared today to celebrate tomorrow when Finland's 12-year-old prohibition law goes into the discard.

Some restaurants are refusing to handle the newly-legalized hard liquors because of the high price fixed by the Government. Restaurant men criticize the Government liquor monopoly for its 60 per cent profit on all sales.

The law provides that a share of the profit be allotted for "temperance purposes," prevention of illegal traffic, and old age and unemployment funds. The rest is set aside for the State Treasury, but part of this is to be allocated to the state's "national culture, temperance and benevolent work."

The Helsingfors Alcohol Co. ordered that, for the present at least, alcohol may be sold at only nine places in Helsingfors and a purchaser may buy less than two quarts, as the law stipulated is not yet equal to the demand.

5,630,000 CHILDREN IN U. S. FOUND TO BE HANDICAPPED

White House Survey Shows Only
1,500,000 Expected Gifted Out of 45,000,000.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 4.—About 5,630,000 of the 45,000,000 children in the United States were found by the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection to be handicapped to an extent requiring special attention and education.

Statistics compiled by the conference, of which Secretary Wilbur of the Interior Department is chairman, showed seven-ninths of the nation's young to be normal, but only 1,500,000 were found to be especially gifted.

Leaders of the movement who conducted the survey advised specialized training for deficient children to prevent their later becoming public charges, criminals or institutional inmates.

In a report just published, the conference committee on special cases gives detailed information concerning training of handicapped children. The report is one of 40 resulting from the conference.

POPE ADDRESSES STUDENTS Pontiff Is Hopeful for Future of America.

VATICAN CITY, April 4.—Pope Pius XI told 200 ecclesiastical students of the American College in an audience today that the United States offered "great hope for the future in the development of spiritual life."

"America is so dear to us," he said, "and has offered us so many consolations, we have great confidence in the future." The pontiff predicted that the young students for the priesthood would have a large share in this development.

Three of the Recipients of King George's Maundy Money

THE British King on Maundy Thursday revived the ancient custom of personally bestowing alms in Westminster Abbey. He gave to each of 67 men and 67 women a pouch containing 67 pence (about $1.10) and also a purse containing about $10. The $10 was for the purchase of provisions, which originally were distributed by the King direct. The 67 pence—known as Maundy money—can usually be sold for much more than its face value. The last King prior to George V to make the personal distribution of alms was James II, who abdicated in 1688. The number 67 was chosen because that is the King's age.

Soviet Automobile Plant Shut Down While Management Is Reorganized

Personal Responsibility for Operation of Immense Factory at Nizhni-Novgorod
To Be Established.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, April 4.—The wheels of the $119,000,000 automobile plant at Nizhni-Novgorod—Soviet Russia's Detroit—have stopped barely three months after they began to hum.

This was admitted today by the Executive Committee of the Communist party in a proclamation demanding drastic reforms in leadership so that production may be resumed by April 15. The giant project was set in motion Jan. 1.

The secretary of the Regional Party Committee at Nizhni-Novgorod was ordered dismissed. The auto foundry and assembly chain were ordered discharged. The Regional Party Committee was told to establish immediately personal responsibility for operation of the project in one directing head.

The committee was also instructed to reorganize the plant's party structure so as to improve leadership in the shortest possible time.

Resumption of operation in time to complete the program for the first six months of 1932 on schedule was demanded.

Faults of Organization.
At present there is a nominal manager, but, as is usually the case under the Soviet system, his authority is strictly limited. He is subject to the whims of the factory Communist party cell and the Factory Committee, the latter of which is composed of workers.

A contributing factor was called "anti-specialist tendencies," which means that there is discrimination against technicians of both the old and new orders of Russia. "Prosecution of administration and technicians" also was cited, but was not explained.

The Nizhni-Novgorod plant was erected by American engineers (The Austin Co. of Cleveland) to turn out Ford cars, and was hailed in opening ceremonies as the largest of its kind in Europe.

The project occupies 300,000 square yards, and around it is being built a new city some 14 miles away from the old Nizhni-Novgorod, which formerly had a population of 150,000 and a 265 miles north-west of Moscow on the Volga.

The old Nizhni-Novgorod was one of the famous market places of Eurasia, and its fairs were once the most famous in Europe.

The new city includes 60 four-story apartment buildings and 178 small houses for workers and their families.

4-POWER MEETING TO DISCUSS DEBTS AND DISARMAMENT

Representatives of Britain, France, Germany, Italy
to Consider Europe's Relations With U. S.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, April 4.—It was definitely settled today that the four-power conference, which meets here Wednesday, will discuss not only means of extending financial aid to the nations on the Danube, but also the whole of Europe's difficulties, including reparations, disarmament and war debts.

Prime Minister MacDonald made the announcement last night after a preliminary conversation with Premier Tardieu of France, who came here yesterday and remained for further discussions today.

The four-power conference, in which representatives of France, Germany, Italy and Great Britain will participate, originally was intended to go into the finances of Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia and Rumania.

After MacDonald and Tardieu had talked yesterday, MacDonald announced that the disarmament situation at Geneva and the Lausanne conference on reparations also would be discussed. This opened the way for consideration of Europe's relations with the United States, including what will happen when the Hoover moratorium ends, as well as the future war debt payments.

MacDonald and Tardieu met at 10 Downing street. Tardieu, with Pierre Flandin, French Foreign Minister, and other members of the party arrived at Victoria Station at 4 p. m. Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, accompanied MacDonald to welcome them.

INTERNATIONAL RADIO FORUM IS ANNOUNCED

Noted Persons Sponsor Plan for Educational Exchange of Ideas.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, April 4.—The organization of an international radio forum, a nonpolitical, noncommercial organization, to promote understanding between peoples of the old and new worlds, was announced yesterday. Sponsored by the American Minister to Sweden, the organization will be divided into two committees, with noted persons in various walks of life serving as members.

Programs between the United States and Europe confined to educational information will be arranged frequently to "stimulate intelligent public thinking on a wide range of problems in both continents."

The American and French committees will begin a regular series of international broadcast programs at an early date. These may include a program every two or three weeks at the start, later to be increased to a trans-Atlantic radio feature each week.

To assure coast-to-coast dissemination in the United States of the speeches of prominent Europeans, Morris announced that the committee of the forum have arranged with the National Broadcasting Co. to assume transmission on this side. The selection of speakers and arrangement of subjects will be handled by the forum itself.

The forum committee includes Morris as chairman; Jane Addams, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, John W. Davis, C. Bascom Slemp, George Vincent and Daniel Willard, for the United States.

For France the members are the Marquis de Chambrun, Gabriel Hanotaux of the Academie Française, former Ambassador Jules J. Jusserand, Admiral Lacaze, Marcel Lyautey, Robert Masson, director of the Credit Lyonnais; Emile Moreau, former head of the Bank of France; Alfred H. Morton, European representative of the Radio Corporation of America, and former Premier Paul Painlevé.

Morris explained that after making a Fourth of July address from France to America over the radio last year he felt that "inventions making possible such talks around the world should be dedicated to ending the world by speech and by reaching the minds and souls of peoples geographically far apart."

The forum's committees, he said, will select from their fellow countrymen speakers who are interested in humanitarian professions, in medicine, art, literature or economics.

PUBLIC MEETINGS AND ENTERTAINMENTS

The fifteenth anniversary of the arrival of the Salvation Army in St. Louis and the hundred and third anniversary of the birth of William Booth, founder of the organization, will be observed next Sunday afternoon in ceremonies at Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington boulevards. Representatives of the American Legion and other organizations of veterans will attend in recognition of the Salvation Army's work during the war.

The first semi-monthly meeting of the Young People's Branch of the St. Louis Chapter of the League for Independent Political Action will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Public Library, Thirtieth and Olive streets. Louis Martin Wolf, executive secretary of the Civil Liberties Committee, will speak on "Success—What Are the Odds Against You?"

War veterans of the One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Infantry will meet Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock at the armory, 220 South Grand boulevard, to discuss plans for a permanent organization.

The Missouri Baptist Woman's Missionary Union, an auxiliary of the Missouri Baptist General Association, will hold its annual convention at the Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington boulevards, beginning tomorrow and lasting three days. Addresses and reports by home and foreign mission leaders will be heard.

Five nations have declared, in effect, that unless measures are taken to reconstruct their finances, another financial storm such as struck Central Europe last summer may sweep the continent, with world-wide consequences. Tardieu's visit was planned to avert such a crisis by negotiating an Anglo-French understanding for rapid financial relief along the Danube.

The intention of the British Government, MacDonald said, "is sincere and disinterested in getting the maximum amount of good will and international co-operation brought to bear on the solution of the problems before us. One country can not do it. The policy we are working out is a policy of co-operation with everybody who is aiming at peace."

A joint declaration of MacDonald and Tardieu was issued to an agreement regarding the meeting, spread in some European countries. It said: "There are no agreements beforehand. There are no drafts of proposals beforehand. We want an agreement which will be consistent with the interests and well-being of each nation concerned. Our policy is for practical steps to establish and maintain the peace and well-being of Europe and the world."

The conversations began again this morning, when Tardieu and Flandin arrived in Downing street. Tardieu conferred with Simon, after which both went to the MacDonald residence.

$5186 GIVEN FOR REOPENING OF BROOM SHOP FOR BLIND
Pledges and cash contributions totaling $5186.50 have been received by the Missouri Commission for the Blind toward a $30,000 guaranty necessary to re-open the St. Louis Broom Shop, 1908 Locust street.

The fund includes $2880 in pledges. One hundred and twenty-five blind broom makers with about 400 dependents were thrown out of work last Thursday when the shop was forced to close because of lack of funds. Their needs are being met by charitable organizations but they hope still to be enabled to go back to work.

'RHAPSODY IN BLACK' GOOD ALL-NEGRO SHOW AT SHUBERT

Fine Singing and Dancing and an Excellent Orchestra Pleases Large Sunday Night Audience.
"Rhapsody in Black," billed as an All-Negro Revue, but which is actually a concert company with its musical program dotted here and there, with vaudeville turns, began a week's stay at the Shubert Theater last night before a large audience which enjoyed the entertainment immensely. There are no chorus girls to the show no ensemble dancing and no sketches or "blackouts" of the revue type. The music and dancing, by individuals, is all performed on a stage draped simply in black curtains with an excellent orchestra usually forming the background.

A choir of some 16 fine voices sings everything from Negro spirituals to "Eli Eli" in Hebrew and a song in the Russian language, while Ethel Waters, the star of the company, runs to lighter things, such as "What's Keepin' My Prince Charming?" and "You Can't Stop Me From Lovin' You." The dancing of the Berry Brothers and Blue McAllister, and the piano playing of Joseph Still were other high spots of the performance.

STATUS OF REVENUE BILL IN CONGRESS; EXPOSITION OF FACTS Continued from Page One.

These are the payments which will be made in September and December of this calendar year. Not until the payments due next March and June will the new rates be reflected in the collections of the fiscal year 1933.

Estimates of Income Yield.
Even so, it appeared to Swing, to Representative Cochran (Dem.), St. Louis, and to other advocates of higher levies in the upper income brackets, that the Swing rates were being too much belittled by the Treasury as producers of revenue for 1933. They are still of that opinion. The view is shared by progressive Senators of both parties, and will be forcibly voiced in the forthcoming debate.

The Treasury view was emphasized both on and off the floor of the House by member opposed to the Swing rates, and, together with the familiar arguments that the proposed rates would unduly "soak the rich" and would cause wealth to be poured into tax-exempt bonds, brought about a reversal of the House action on the rates.

As against the Treasury's estimate of a $17,000,000 yield from the Swing rates for the last half of the fiscal year 1933, Representative Swing estimated that they would bring in from $45,000,000 to $50,000,000 for that period, and about $95,000,000 for a full fiscal year. Swing based his estimates on figures given him by L. H. Parker, chief of the experts of the joint congressional committee on internal revenue legislation, who is highly regarded in the House as a forecaster of revenue. For the last six years Parker is credited with having made better estimates of Government income than anybody else.

Swing's estimates of probable returns from his proposed surtaxes were made with full consideration of the undisputed fact that, since 1930, there has been a great shrinkage in the incomes of $100,000 and over. In numerous instances, members of Congress, using Parker's information, estimated the yields of proposed taxes at a higher figure than the Treasury's.

Some Fruitless Efforts.
All efforts to get from the Treasury the method by which it calculated the yield of the Swing rates at only $17,000,000 for the half year were fruitless. A demand from Swing brought the reply that many factors, which could only be given their proper weight by trained economists, were involved. In reply to a demand from Representative Cochran, Secretary Mills wrote that the estimates of income tax yields "are based on continuous study of many factors, are necessarily very intricate, and require judgment based on long experience."

The Treasury at no time supplied an estimate of the aggregate amount of net taxable income of taxpayers in the brackets above $100,000 for the calendar years 1931 and 1932. When efforts were made to get the figures for 1931, the reply was made that they had not yet been compiled.

Other Estimate Discrepancies.
There were numerous other discrepancies between the Treasury estimates and those from other sources. For example, the Treasury said the 10 per cent tax on the rental of safe deposit boxes would yield only $1,000,000, as against La Guardia's estimate of $5,000,000. The Treasury calculated that the new stock sales tax would bring in $70,000,000, while La Guardia figured the yield at $125,000,000.

About Foreign Debt Payments.
Very little has been said about the fact that the 1933 budget carries as an asset of the Government about $70,000,000 due to be paid on the war debts by foreign countries. Hardly anybody believes that it will be paid. If it is not paid, obviously the new revenue for 1933 must be that much in excess of the present official estimates of new revenue if the budget is actually to be balanced. In this fact may be found, perhaps, a clew to the Treasury's apparent conservatism, and that of the House Ways and Means Committee, in estimating the money to be had from various new sources of revenue. Certainly it is to be hoped that the yields will exceed the estimates.

It has often been stated in print and in debate that Representative Swing proposed a return to the wartime surtax rates. He did not. His suggested rates average 10 percent lower than the wartime rates, and when normal taxes, in each case, are figured in, the difference is even greater. The normal rates in 1918 ran to a maximum of 12 per cent, as against the 7 per cent maximum in the present bill.

Typical of Misinformation.
A typical bit of misinformation about the proposed surtax increases was that given in the House last week by Majority Leader Rainey, when he said that in a State imposing a 5 per cent income tax, a taxpayer possessed of an income of over $5,000,000 would have to pay, if the Swing Federal rates were adopted, a "total of 77 cents in income taxes out of every dollar that he makes, leaving only 23 cents of his earned dollar."

The total of 77 cents is correct Federal normal tax of 7 per cent plus the proposed Federal surtax of 65 per cent plus State tax of 5 per cent—and the question of the "earned" dollar of the man with an income exceeding $5,000,000 may be passed over. But it is not true that he would pay 77 cents "out of every dollar that he makes." He would only pay this top rate on his dollars of income in excess of $5,000,000—which is a vastly different thing from paying it on his whole $5,000,000.

The basic difference between the 1918 rates and the Swing rates is that the former imposed the 65 per cent maximum surtax on all income over $1,000,000, whereas the latter would defer this maximum till the income had passed $5,000,000. It is interesting to note that even with the Swing amendment tax-payors in the high brackets would still pay considerably less than is paid by those in comparable circumstances in Great Britain.

Under the Swing rates, a man with a net income of $100,000—net income for taxation purposes after all the deductions allowed by the law—would have left $73,335. One with an income of $300,000 would have left $173,335. Out of a $500,000 income there would be left $261,335; out of a $1,000,000 income, $461,335, and out of a $5,000,000 income, $1,751,335.

SHOT AND BODY SET AFIRE

Center Cross (Va.) Merchant Carried Large Sum of Money.

CENTER CROSS, Va., April 4.—Logan Greenwood, 52-year-old merchant, was found dead on the floor of his store here Saturday morning. His chest was penetrated with a revolver bullet and his body, which was badly burned, gave evidence of kerosene poured over it.

A verdict of "murder committed with a pistol by parties unknown" was returned by Acting Coroner C. B. Newbill. Authorities said that Greenwood had a reputation for carrying considerable amounts of money on his person. There was no money in his clothing when the body was found.

FOR WILD GAME CONSERVATION

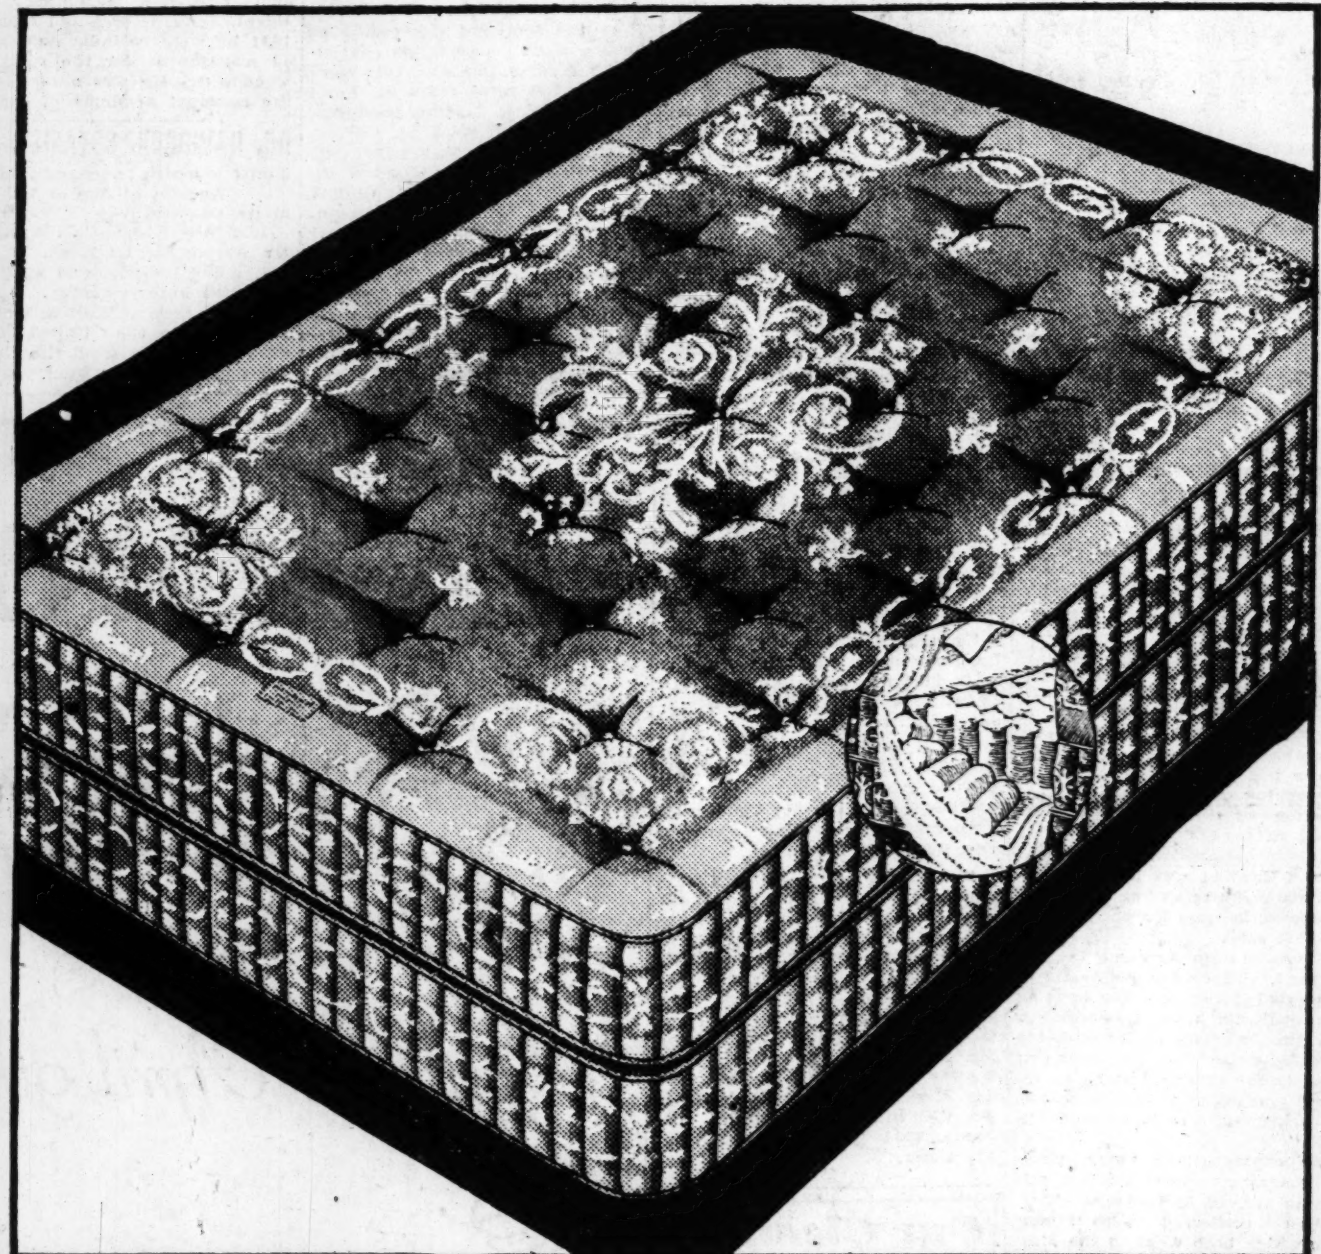

Group to Appear This Week Before Senate Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Legislation looking to the development and protection of American water fowl and wild life resources will be urged before the Senate Committee on Conservation this week by a group of scientists, heads of state commissions and experts on wild game.

Among the bills to be advocated is a measure proposing a tax of 1 cent a shell on all shotgun ammunition with a rebate to trapshooters. Proceeds of the tax, estimated at $7,000,000 a year, would be used for the increase of wild game.

FUGITIVE TELLER, TIRED OF EVADING ARRESTS, GIVES UP

19-Year-Old Racine, Wis.,
Youth Accused With Cousin of Embezzling
$38,000 From Bank.

By the Associated Press.
RACINE, Wis., April 4.—Absent since Dec. 12, Charles Harvey, 19 years old, junior teller at the American Trade and Savings Bank, was arrested here last night in connection with the embezzlement of $38,000 of the bank's funds.

Harvey called Police Chief Grover C. Lutter from Chicago shortly after 8 p. m., stating he was tired of dodging authorities and would surrender. Lutter and a detective watched incoming trains and arrested him as he alighted from a train at 9:30 p. m.

Between $7000 and $8000 of the missing funds was recovered from his person. A week ago Harvey's cousin, Ralph Baughard, 26, was arrested in Los Angeles, Cal., and reportedly admitted complicity in the embezzlement. Nearly $10,000 was recovered from Baughard.

Harvey insisted the embezzlement was engineered by his cousin, Lutter says, so the two "might have a good time." Harvey said he read of his cousin's arrest in California while he was in Laredo, Tex., and decided three days ago to return here to give himself up. On a tip from Baughard's alleged confession, Laredo police had been informed a week ago to look for Harvey.

The young bank employee reportedly took the funds from the bank's Christmas saving accounts and carried it out in a shoe box.

California authorities said Baughard has agreed to return to Wisconsin for trial.

Suspect Captured After Pistol Fight With Police.

By the Associated Press.
READING, Pa., April 4.—Captured after a pistol fight, Samuel Cohen, 32 years old, alleged mail robber, is being held for postal authorities, who charge he stole a $12,000 sack of registered mail in Pittsburgh Jan. 28.

Police also are holding Kathleen Tomasky, 24, as a material witness. After watching Miss Tomasky's boarding house for several days, a detective caught Cohen leaving the house Saturday night. Cohen jumped into his automobile and sped away. The detective blocked the street with his machine and ran toward Cohen, who threw his automobile into reverse and escaped around a corner. Another detective joined the chase in a commandeered car and pursued Cohen until the fleeing man was caught in traffic. Cohen was captured as he attempted to leave his car. Police said they found two pistols and a fountain pen type tear gas pistol in Cohen's apartment.

Sharpen your pencil ... Then light a Real Cigar

$2000 PRIZE WORD CONTEST IS FUN FOR ENTIRE FAMILY

Twenty-four cash prizes are offered to those who make the most words out of Dutch Masters. And you'll discover plenty, far easier than you find words to describe the pleasure of smoking a Dutch Masters Cigar.

Say all the nice things that you appreciate in a cigar—mild—mellow—fragrant—cool—fresh. But that's only part of it, for no words can describe the winning personality that makes a Dutch Masters cigar a pleasure-giving companion you never tire of. Now, light up and get busy on the contest with your sharp pencil.

CONTEST RULES

Prizes will be given for the greatest number of words made out of the letters in Dutch Masters. No word must contain a letter more times than it appears in Dutch Masters. Use only standard English words; no proper names. List your words on paper under each letter (the D's together, the U's, etc.). Write only on one side of paper.

Mail your words with five Dutch Masters cigar hands, or reasonable facsimiles in colors, to Contest Department, Consolidated Cigar Corp., 730 Fifth Avenue, New York, the judges of the contest. Envelopes must be postmarked before midnight, April 15, 1932. If two or more contestants are tied for a prize, the award will be made to the nearest entry.

HIGHWAY FROM U. S. TO EUROPE FORSEEN

Route Would Be From Seattle, Across Bering Strait by Ferry, Then Through Siberia

SEATTLE, Wash., April 4.—An automobile road from Seattle to the capitals of Europe, broken only by a 60-mile ferry trip across the Bering Strait, is discussed here as a possibility in the eventual extension of the proposed Alaska-Pacific-Yukon highway. Councilman John Carroll, prominent worker for highways of the Pacific Northwest, outlined a possible route through the Pacific Northwest and Alaska, and thence across the Siberian wastelands and Russia, which he said would offer 7000 miles of the most varied scenery imaginable. He said many people living today who will see the highway a reality.

Although authorities agree the $12,000,000 project for an extension of the Pacific highway through Seattle, Vancouver, B. C., and the Yukon territory to Fairbanks, is an "economic impossibility" under present conditions, its proponents still are hoping for its construction in the near future. A joint commission, representing the United States and Canada, has found the extension to Fairbanks "entirely feasible," and is continuing its study.

The new construction, including widening and improving a present north-south road in British Columbia, would be more than 2000 miles long, through some of the most rugged mountains on North America. The extension from Fairbanks to Bering Strait, probably through Nome to Teller, would provide travel through some of the most famous gold country of the Northern Territory, a distance of approximately 600 miles.

The route of the highway across Siberia, as Carroll outlined the prospect, probably would follow the trans-Siberian Railroad to Moscow, through Warsaw to Berlin, Hamburg, down through Holland and Belgium to Paris. From Bering Strait such a highway, he said, could drop southwest to Yakutsk and thence up the Lena River to Irkutsk on the southern tip of Lake Balkal and thence westward following the railroad into Moscow.

A second highway to important Chinese centers, could be cut off from the main east-west road to Europe, following the coast of the Sea of Okhotsk, the Sea of Japan and inland to Mukden, thence southwest to Peking and Tientsin. Along the Yellow Sea coast to Shanghai and the East China Sea to Canton and Hongkong.

YOUTHS HELD IN GIRL'S DEATH

Young Woman Found Fatally Hurt on Kansas Highway.
By the Associated Press.
GARNETT, Kan., April 4.—Lowell Lloyd, Princeton, Kan., and Lawrence Richardson, Pomona, Kan., both 18 years old, were held in the Anderson County Jail in connection with the death of Mamie Evelyn Patterson, 19, found fatally injured on a highway south of here Friday night.

Sheriff Tom Hurst said the youths denied any connection with the girl's death, but admitted they were with her in Garnett and Welda, Kan., and said they let her out of their automobile at the spot where she was found by a bus driver. The girl died in a Garnett hospital. The Sheriff said the boys told him they gave the girl a ride when they overtook her on a highway. They said they were not acquainted with her before the highway meeting.

If you ask my Opinion

Martha Carr

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: I am 18 years old and in the last year of high school. Our family has moved to St. Louis and are now living in an apartment. Before we came here we had a large home of our own and our good furniture is now in storage. If we don't pay a little on it before next month, they will sell it. My mother is hysterical about it and feels that if this is done we will never have a home again. As I am not working, I can't save anything unless I go without my lunch. Would you do this? I would do anything for my mother. She has done so much for me. My father has a job and a very good one, but this time of year he has more money than usual.

JUST EIGHTEEN.

Going without your lunch would be poor economy. And it is much more vital, to my mind, for you to keep up your vitality than to save the furniture. If you have a good reason and the storage people have not carried the account too long without payment, they might be willing to wait until your father has more and you, perhaps, can get something to do through the summer. Why not write them that yourself? And couldn't your father get a temporary loan on this furniture?

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: I am 19 years old and have been going with a nice girl for about a year. We talk about getting married in a year or two. I have had a bad past, though my trouble happened two and a half years ago. In this time I have proven that I will never have again. Would you tell her about this? Or would you quit going with her and call it another love affair?

E. L. H.

It would depend, somewhat, upon the nature of your misdemeanor, as I judge from what you say that it was some violation of the law. I think if you are trying for a clean slate, you would feel better, and it would give you support in your desire to live rightly, to be honest and frank with this girl. You must know, by this time, whether she has enough strength of character and devotion to you, to survive this. At least you will have done your duty, and if you have to give her up, it will not be for so slight a reason as you suggest.

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: As I am going on a motor trip through the West about May 15 I am rather in doubt what to take, as I intend to camp through Yellowstone Park. Also my luggage must be light. I am 22 years old, weight 116, height, 5-4, brown eyes and hair. I would also like a wardrobe for one 45 years old, weighing 170 pounds, 5 feet 7 inches tall.

E. A. W.

I believe it would be more satisfactory to you and clearer to me if you would write me directly, sending me a self-addressed and stamped envelope for a reply. State how long you will be gone, whether you will be entertained formally at all and what you expect to do while camping, fish, hike, ride or what?

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: Will you please tell me whether black gloves made of "genuine antelope skin" are washable? Also, I had a friend, a very old lady, who, I have just heard, died about Christmas time. I did not know of it and so am late in sending my condolences. I sent her a card at Christmas, and the family have not written me. Is it too late to write a note of sympathy? How can I word it?

A. L. S.

Gasoline or naphtha would be the only way to clean the gloves, I believe, though the latter is so very inflammable that I hesitate to recommend it. I do not think the shops, even where the label says "washable" guarantee success in washing dark antelope gloves. I should send you a written note, just saying that you had not heard of their loss and expressing your sympathy and perhaps your admiration or affection for the grandmother.

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: I have a boy friend who has been good to me, whom I expect to marry some time. His mother lives in a different city and she has sent me nice messages and also a gift. I must thank her for. But I don't know how to address her. And what shall I call her when I see her? Please hurry as I must write her soon.

K. J. P.

Address the boy's mother just as you would any other friend, "My Dear Mrs. Ward" (or whatever her name is), and thank her cordially for the pretty gift and for thinking of you. When you see her call her "Mrs. Ward." That is customary until after you are married, when, if she requests it, you may call her "mother."

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an address and stamped envelope for a personal reply.

Bringing RARE RHINOS Back to AMERICA

THE OLD BABUS EYES ALMOST POPPED OUT OF HIS HEAD AS I COUNTED OUT THE MONEY.

How Superstitious Natives and a Storm at Sea Almost Ruined a Costly Animal-Hunting Expedition.

By FRANK BUCK.

I HAD kept the Nepalese authorities posted on my movements by telegraph. They knew I was at Raxaul, stopping at the railroad bungalow, and they were to send representatives to meet me. Not long after the Englishman's departure these representatives arrived—two Nepalese who had come down from Bilganga, in accordance with arrangements made by Gen. Shum Shere, to escort me across the border, and on to Bilganga, whence a trail led up into the foothill country where the rhino camp was located.

My escorts were mounted on small horses or mountain ponies. They had brought an extra one for me. These ponies, bred in the Nepalese hills, are diminutive in size but hard as nails.

Elephants awaited us at Bilganga for the main force and the rhino camp. For a hardened collector I found myself getting pretty excited as we neared the camp.

My delight on finally reaching the animals, after months and months of anticipation, may well be imagined. I fairly slid off the big elephant on which I was riding before it had a chance to kneel.

Lal was so tickled he did the Asiatic equivalent of a springing cartwheel. If you can imagine anything as crazy as that. He accompanied his acrobatics with the most joyous cackling I'd ever heard from the Maharajah.

The rhinos were wonderful calves, in splendid condition. I was happier than I had been in as long as I could remember.

The animals were in big heavy cages made of bamboo and big timber cut and put together in a most ingenious fashion, no nails being used, the rough-hewn timbers as dovetailed and doweled together as to be thoroughly solid. It was almost incredible that these frail, well-made cages had been constructed with only the use of an adze, mallet and a crude hand-saw.

And that the fun began. The man in charge of the rhino camp was a Nepalese official, a pompous person who acted as if he was in the habit of giving orders to the Maharajah.

He had joined us at Bilganga where I was amused by the Napoleonic attitudes he struck as he barked out trivial commands to the half-crazed Gurkha escort that accompanied him.

FOR eighteen years Frank Buck has been capturing and buying wild animals for American zoos and circus menagers. During that time he has had dozens of exciting adventures and this series of stories is based on his experiences in the jungles. In the chapter which appeared in this section of the Post-Dispatch on Saturday Buck related how he persuaded the Maharajah of Nepal to turn over two Indian rhinos to him for $16,000. After many difficulties the rhinos were captured and held for Buck at a remote section of Nepal, which is an uncivilized country. Buck was unable to get to the captives because of floods and so temporarily abandoned the project. Today's story opens with Buck back in Nepal to get the rhinos which are considered the rarest of all animals.

All the time I was trying to figure out a strategic move calculated to impress the major with my importance.

I started by telling him that Gen. Shum Shere was one of my oldest friends. In Calcutta he and I were inseparable. I practically lived at his house there.

The major's widening eyes showed that I was making progress. I went on. And on. How could I have secured special permission to enter Nepal if I hadn't been an old comrade of the General's? The General, in securing the rhinos for me, was merely doing me a friendly service. True.

I was to pay for them. But little did he, the major, know how I did it. I had to plead with the General in Calcutta to get him to consider taking my money. Shum Shere had told me a hundred times that it was a small enough service to a friend to secure a pair of rhinos for him as a present. After all, Nepal was full of rhinos, and they were tramping the rice fields. They would all be shot as pests anyhow, so why not give an old friend a pair?

But that was as far as the Major would let me go. He was melting by the second. His manner plainly indicated that he had scored. If I had told him that I was in the habit of putting Shum Shere on my knee and playing with his whiskers the major would have believed me. Raxaul, I said.

He said no, no, no. I had him by the neck of the matter. He was to take payment here at the camp but if the American gentleman said no, no, no. I had him by the neck of the matter. He was to take payment here at the camp but if the American gentleman said no, no, no. I had him by the neck of the matter.

The Major agreed with alacrity. He would help Gen. Shum Shere's good friend get the rhinos to Raxaul. I never appreciated the truth of Kipling's poem about the man who tried to hurry the East so much as I did during the days that followed. Most of my time during the day was spent with the rhinos, and some of the nights, too. I made three or four trips back and forth between Raxaul and the rhino camp, traveling by elephant.

I flatly refused to make payment at the camp. The major, who had dropped back a few paces, beckoned to me to join him. I stepped whereupon he pompously strode over to where I stood, the Gurkhas advancing a similar distance behind him.

16,000-mile journey.

It was a great sight to see our odd caravan coming down through the jungle. The two huge crates were loaded on big bullock carts drawn by four water buffaloes. Alongside marched 40 to 50 Gurkha soldiers to steady the load and help push the carts out of mud holes, ruts, etc. while directly back of the carts came three elephants, each carrying a huge load of fodder for the animals. This consisted of green leaves of the jack fruit tree which were cut into small pieces.

After three days of hard going we reached Bilganga and a temporary camp was made. I went on into Raxaul with Lal, had a good rest at the railroad bungalow and was back shortly after daylight the second morning, when the caravan again got under way. Owing to my calves, the major, especially when our train stopped at stations along the way: so it was with some reluctance and much cautioning that I left Lal and the Nepalese boy in charge of the two cars and went to my compartment to wash and rest.

I got out at almost every station along the way and assisted the two boys, standing guard over the animals with a good heavy walking stick, which I found it necessary to use on several occasions. Wherever there is a railroad station in India there are many native idlers and loiterers. The Hindu whose chief emotion seems to be curiosity about the next train. These idlers would crowd around at every stop we made, some of the bolder ones making daring efforts to snip off pieces of the soft horn of my calves. I wielded my cane, bringing a lump to more than one tugging Hindu head, and Lal and the Nepalese boy whaled away with long sticks, yet we had our hands full, and in spite of all our precautions on the second morning of our journey we found a hole at least an inch square and almost two inches deep gouged out of the tender young horn of one of the rhinos. Some Hindu had carved himself a piece of horn big enough to make a few dozen of the little buttons.

The incident seems unimportant at this writing but I don't mind saying that I was furious when I discovered what had happened to the horn of one of my rhinos. I immediately questioned Lal and the Nepalese boy but my investigation yielded nothing. Some Hindu had been too quick for them. At Athlaga Ganga, on the north bank of the Ganges River, the Bengal and Northwestern Railway terminates. On arriving here I had to charter a boat. I sent Lal and Jherim scouting about for coolies while I entered into negotiations with several Hindu owners of the big clumsy sail boats that ply about this busy section of the Ganges. I succeeded in getting these phinias navigators brought up against one another to such an extent in their competitive bidding for my cargo that I managed to get the rhinos carried to Mokamaghat at a reasonable figure.

I had got my prizes to the rail head. It might have seemed that the worst of my troubles was over. But that would have been reckoning without a new danger that promptly developed. To all Asiatics the horn of the rhinoceros has great powers. A book called "The Rhinoceros" has been written around the superstitions and myths that abound in Asia about the miraculous rejuvenating properties of this substance.

The Chinese will cross the Himalayas to the Nepalese border for rhino horn, paying thousands of rupees for a small bag of the cure-all. In China this is disposed of at fancy prices to the wealthy. One of the bloodiest murders that ever took place in China had for its motive a shipment of rhino horn, among the biggest ever gathered together. The shipment did. The comparative security of the place minimized the problem of driving off natives who were on the lookout for the shining road to these mythical excitements that all Hindus seemed to be seeking. Only a few of the bolder natives invaded the privacy of that lawn and they were easily chased away. An American ship, the S. S. Lake Gitan, bound for Hongkong, was in port when we reached Calcutta. She was due to sail in a week, which was good news. I arranged for passage for Lal and myself and the rhinos and the many other specimens I was bringing back. I had two fine shipping crates made of heavy teak planks for the rhinos, got my other specimens properly caged and crated for the trip and we sailed from Calcutta on the 30th day of March, 1923, with the rhinos and other specimens as deck cargo.

The Gitan called in at Penang on the Malay Peninsula and from there I took a train down to Singapore, leaving Lal in charge of the animals. I beat the Gitan into Singapore by a full day and on her arrival there had the specimens at the compound moved down to the dock and ready to be loaded, for the ship was to remain at Singapore only a few hours. The trip from here up to Hongkong was without incident. I had my usual graphic arrangements from Calcutta for shipping out of Hongkong on the S. S. President Wilson and fortunately our boat and the Wilson pulled into Hongkong at the same time. The two ships craned fast on either side of the dock and the transshipment of my animals was made. As fast as the crates and cages were lowered onto the pier from the Gitan they were heaved aboard the Wilson.

By this time I had a right to expect some peace of mind. I had sweated buckets of blood in getting my rhinos to the point where I was to show them the way to America. I discovered that I weighed 20 pounds less than when I originally set out for Nepal. I was pretty well worn with the task of getting the two troublesome Indian rhinos headed for the States, and I felt like easing up a bit.

I didn't get the rest I was looking for. The reason: a typhoon. All hands were called out. My cages and crates were made fast to the canvas coverings. The seas, lashed by murderous winds, mounted higher and higher and finally broke in torrents over the bow. The captain—that grand old seaman Henry Nelson—issued orders that no one was to go forward. I stood on the bridge and watched mountains of water break over the still boars the mark of the crazy wind. I knew the danger and I had the advantage of the hatch's elevation. The force of the waves, in other words, was broken by the base of the hatch. The smaller well lashed against the bulkhead, so I felt reasonably sure that they would stand the storm, too.

The storm had now been in progress for 30 hours. Captain Nelson was on the bridge where he had remained all night, and where I had joined him. I yelled to him about the shifting of the rhino cages. He couldn't hear a damned nuisance. I love you for word I was saying. The shriek of all the trouble you caused me.

An elephant is a peaceful looking animal and fairly easy to handle, but now and then they have fits of temper. In the next chapter of this series, which will appear in this section of the Post-Dispatch on Saturday, Buck will tell how an unruly pachyderm gave him some new thrills.

The Chinese method of using rhino horn is to dry it thoroughly and grind it into a powder which is then mixed with a liquid and taken internally. The Malays look upon rhino horn more as a charm than as a medicine and no Malay will ever overlook an opportunity to rub his hands over rhino horn, and if he is so fortunate as to have a small piece to carry in his pocket, the god of luck will never forsake him.

The Hindu view is much like the Chinese. Only in the method of using it does he differ. Instead of powdering and drinking it, the Hindu sucks on a small piece of the magic restorative.

The horns of my young rhinos were just beginning to grow out and I behooved me to keep a close watch on them, especially when our train stopped at stations along the way: so it was with some reluctance and much cautioning that I left Lal and the Nepalese boy in charge of the two cars and went to my compartment to wash and rest.

I got out at almost every station along the way and assisted the two boys, standing guard over the animals with a good heavy walking stick, which I found it necessary to use on several occasions. the wind and the roar of the giant waves drowned my voice. Finally, by the process of bel-lowing in his ear I managed to make myself understood. "No news to me," he said. "I'm afraid they're gone."

"Gone?" I echoed, stunned. It would be awful to lose those rhinos after the struggle I'd made to get them this far. "I'm afraid so," the captain replied, railing in my ear to make himself heard above the terrific din of the wind and sea. The next big one that comes over will either smash that crate up against the main mast and break the damned box into a thousand pieces, or crash it against the other crate, loosening that too, and sending them both overboard. What the hell do you care? There's lots more rhinos where those came from, ain't there?"

I asked the captain to let me have a sailor to go forward with me and help me re-lash the crate. "You're crazy," he said. "Do you think I'd order a man out at a time like this?"

Well and good. I'd go anyhow and see what I could accomplish unaided. I had no intention of losing those rhinos without putting up a battle. I started below. The captain yelled a warning to me: "Don't you go forward, young fellow! The first real wave that hits you will carry you over the side."

Boy

CHAPTER SE

THE rest of the season spun around. Ross wrenched her attention from daughter long enough to complain to Papa Ross talked. A good-looking, amusing young fellow. Good enough stock, yes, but hardly a consideration as a serious connection. The way was being treated shamefully. Hope emerged from these intervals in a determined and angry line. All the folks he had was his father! ever met, J. Hickson Dale got her high.

Next, of course, to Dickey—and to her own father. . . . We can be too busy to think. Sometimes we can't think. The prom was an undertaking. Both for preparation and recuperation. Then Easter vacation, with Dickey right in New York! The night of one of Dickey's huge openings, when she and Dickey sat in the front row, and went backstage after, and parried with Dickey and the star after that.

The college show came next— which Dickey had written (along with a collaborator, who was well considered sufficiently important to be invited around). And only by the fact that Betty Preston and Pat Hollins were going to Har-mouth, too, was Hope able to convince Dickey that they permitted her to go—and they'd sadly regret it if they withheld permission. Finally she won, as she knew very well she would win.

Many times Dickey made the heart-rending journey from Har-mouth down to Westchester for a week-end. Driving all night—arriving tired, stiff in the shoulders, and none the worse for eating some 20 or 30 sandwiches as she drove with one hand, or stopping long enough to take a swig of coffee out of her thermos.

Though she never mentioned it to either side, Hope's eyes blistered with wrath that her folks never offered actual hospitality to Dickey on those sojourns. Why, she demanded of herself, when so many of the boys and girls were cheerfully told to pick a room and bunk up? It seemed so pointed, so rude, never to ask Dickey to stay over. Always he had had to go into New York to his father, or put up in the town's "boarding-room" hotel. She knew Dickey noticed it; and it seemed to her as if he grinned more ingratiatingly each time she was more and more courteous to her people, as if to put them at ease as far as he was concerned.

Once she protested against his long drives down. She could see how it was wearing him. . . . She protested, relying on his protest, knowing she'd curl up and waste away if he stopped his visits. He could always be relied upon. "Your ideas are utterly nit-wit," he growled. "Sometimes you talk just to hear how you sound. Do you want me to flunk the year?"

"Oh no, Dickey!" "I get the dollars if I don't come down to see you, little cricket." She smiled, her eyes down. Not daring to show how she was feeling. With other boys she could boss and wisecrack. . . . She could almost understand now why Goody was so goofy when Charlie was around. . . . "Will you marry me, cricket?" "That was marry. She could both laugh and look up. "Sure!" "Are you mine, cricket?" "Yes, O. H."

"You aren't dazing me?" "Huh! I'll marry you if you won't muss my hair like that." Silence was pleasant. "Well, I won't last long," said Dickey, with a sudden fervor. "Either you marry me or I'll go nuts. I'll be a blithering idiot. Old Dickey would hate me to be a blithering idiot."

"So would I, for that matter," she agreed, unabashedly. He said, "You're seriously taking her hand in his. "Will you sign your name to it?"

DEMOCRATIC RACE AFTER SIX MONTHS STILL ROOSEVELT AGAINST THE FIELD

Developments, Both Positive and Negative, Leave New Yorker the Favorite and Only One Gaining Ground.

OTHER BOOMS MAKE LITTLE HEADWAY

He Is Expected to Win in Wisconsin Today; Much Hangs on Primaries in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, April 5.—Gov. Roosevelt of New York continues to march steadily toward the Democratic nomination for the presidency. It is still possible under the two-thirds rule of Democratic conventions that he will be "stopped," but if this is to happen, the forces arrayed against him will have to develop more strength than they have yet displayed. Today, Roosevelt is by far the best bet for the nomination.
The old political adage that "you can't defeat somebody with nobody" is as true today as ever. Applied to the present situation in the Democratic party, it means that there is no one outstanding candidate against Roosevelt; no candidate who now seems likely to attract to his banner a sufficient number of delegates to make the "stop-Roosevelt" movement effective.

It was stated in this correspondence last September that the Democratic contest for the presidential nomination was assuming the aspect of the Republican pre-convention campaign of 1920, when a group of so-called allies failed to make headway against the leading candidate, Hoover. Nothing has occurred to alter that diagnosis. The fight is still Roosevelt against the field, and no candidate stands out as a powerful contender. It is always conceivable, of course, that changed conditions between now and June, or during the convention, will bring someone out of the ruck. What is here set down describes conditions as of today.

Six Months' Developments.
All the important developments in the campaign during the last six months have been in Roosevelt's favor rather than otherwise. Some of these developments have been negative and some positive. On the negative side, he has been strengthened by the failure of the booms for other men to arouse sustained enthusiasm. For a time some of the Eastern sponsors of the "stop Roosevelt" drive looked with hopeful eyes on the candidacy of Gov. Ritchie of Maryland. Ritchie's speeches, however, have fallen short of building him up as a national figure. Political scouts who have been over the country report that there is a friendly feeling for him in many quarters, but little real enthusiasm. Ritchie, in short, has not made the grade. His views appeal to those who believe that the best chance of the Democratic party in the coming election lies in proving itself "safe and sane," but there is no fondness for him among the progressives. His uncompromising wetness hurts him in the South.

If, by any chance, the Democratic nominee for first place on the ticket should be picked from the Middle West, Ritchie would be regarded as good vice presidential timber. If Roosevelt is nominated, there will be small chance for another man from the Atlantic seaboard to get on the ticket.

Young, T aylor and Others.
Of the other candidates, avowed and otherwise, none has made substantial progress either in public favor or the hunt for delegates. Owen Young seems to have faded out of the picture, and the same is true of Melvin T aylor of Chicago, whose chances to emerge from the dark-horse group seemed to be fancied by some observers. Any points of "availability" which T aylor may possess are offset, at the moment, by the fact that he is a banker. It seems to be the consensus among party leaders that this is no time to nominate a banker.

Newton D. Baker cannot be read completely out of the race. Baker's ability is unquestioned, and he has a considerable following. A deadlock at Chicago might conceivably give him the nomination. Baker's great liability, from the president-
